ITS LAST SESSION.

The Senate Adjourns Until the Next Congress Convenes.

A TRIBUTE TO JOHN BRIGHT.

The Calendar Nearly Cleared of Nominations by the President.

APPOINTEES WITHOUT A PARTY

Teller Believes That His Resolution Against Secret Sessions Will Be Adopted—The President to Take a Rest

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The vice president laid before the senate Stewart's resolutions expressing the profound sorrow of the senate at the death of John Bright Sherman suggested that the resolutions be referred to the committee on foreign relations as its adoption might establish a precedent that would return to plague the senate.

Hawley remarked that no such occasion is likely to arise again If the United States ever had a friend in time of need, that friend was John Bright.

Hoar thought that in this particular case the senate was safe, as it is not at all likely a state of things would again arise that would establish between the United States and a citizen of a foreign country the peculiar relation of respect on one side and the tender, grateful affection on the other, as existed in this country toward the great English statesman who had just gone to his eternal home Hoar proceeded at some length to recount the services of Bright in molding English sentiment in favor of this country during the rebellion, and preventing the Confederacy's recognition by the English government.

Sherman while yielding to none in respect for Bright, was opposed to the example which the resolution would set, but he would offer no obstacle to it, and would withdraw his motion to refer

Reagan referred to the false step taken some years ago in passing a resolution complimentary to a member of the German reichstag, and having it returned disdainfully by Bismarck He said he renewed Sherman's motion to refer

Stewart opposed reference The character of Bright as a leader among men was not by inheritance of rank, but the right of great natural endowment and high moral integrity his public life for nearly half a century having been conspicuous in the heroic effort to remedy ancient abuses.

Hawley said the incident to which Reagan referred differed in all respects from the case of Bright. In that case the person commended had been engaged in a bitter controversy with the government, and the house had directed a copy of the resolution sent to that government. In this case there was no such proposition It was nothing to the senate whether anybody thought of John Bright as the senate did.

Reagan's motion to refer was carried.

The vice president stated that he was about to vacate the chair for the remainder of the session and thanked the senators for the courtesy shown him Ingalls was therefore president pro tem., and took his oath as such.

IN EXECUTIVE SESSION

The senate then went into executive session, and confirmed the following nominations

Wm. F Wharton, assistant secretary of state L. Bradford Prince, governor of New Mexico, George H Shields, of Missouri, assistant attorney general, and Robert J Fisher, of Illinois, assistant commissioner of patents John H Henderson, of Missouri, Cornelius N Bliss, of New York, William Pinckney White, of Maryland, Clement Studebaker, of Indiana, T Jefferson Coolidge, of Massachusetts, William H Trescott, of South Carolina, Andrew Carnegie of Pennsylvania, John B. G Pitkin of Louisiana, Morris M Estee of California and J F Hanson of Georgia, delegates to the congress of American nations to be held in Washington in November 1889

The naval promotions sent to the senate to-day by the president were also confirmed.

There was continued objection to the personnel of the delegation to the congress of American nations, but it availed nothing Senator Beck characterized the democratic members as mugwumps who were not recognized as belonging to the party and he did not think it fair to have them pose before the country as representatives of the democratic party However, they were all confirmed.

A motion was made to reconsider the vote by which the nomination of Andrew Carnegie was confirmed, but only six or eight senators voted for it.

In the course of the session efforts were made to remove the injunction of secrecy from the votes on motions to confirm the nominations of Whitelaw Reid to be minister to France, and Murat Halstead to be minister to Germany, but they were unsuccessful

The calendar nominations were almost entirely cleared. The nominations of Kinsbead, to be U S marshal for the eastern district of Louisiana, and of Whiteman, to be associate justice of the United States court in New Mexico, were the most prominent of those that failed of confirmation.

ADJOURNED SINE DIE

At 3 40, on motion of Cameron the senate adjourned sine die.

SECRET SESSIONS OF THE SENATE.

Teller Believes That His Resolution Will Be Adopted.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Senator Teller's proposition to abolish the secret sessions of the senate for the consideration of presidential nominations, while not the direct outgrowth of reports published on the debate on the nomination of Murat Halstead, was suggested by them The proposition of the latter differs from that made by Platt on the opening of the Fiftieth congress in that it is proposed that only nominations shall be considered with open doors while Platt's resolution proposed to abolish executive sessions for any and all purposes, except when, by specified motion it might be agreed that the doors should be closed. Republican senators say there would have been favorable action taken on the Platt resolution had it not been for the eccentric work of Riddleberger, which was incompatible with the interests of the proposition

Teller, when asked by an associated press reporter to-day as to the outlook for his resolution, said there is no doubt in his mind that it will be adopted So far as he can see there is very little objection now to the consideration of presidential nominations in open session He is confident that the masses of the people are in favor of it and equally confident that in view of publications during the past week that a majority of the senators will vote for it.

HARRISON WILL TAKE A REST

He is Completely Worn Out by the Clamorous Calls of Office Seekers.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Now that the senate has adjourned, President Harrison will go away for ten days' or two weeks rest. He has unfolded his plan to a senator, saying that he was worn out and must have relief from his incessant attentions.

Where he will go the president did not say, but he believes that the adjournment of the senate and his departure will have the effect of scattering the clamorous crowd which has been here since the inauguration It will be understood that the distribution of patronage is to stop or at least that no important appointments will be made until the president's return

A List Long Enough to Keep the Hunters in Washington for Some Time

WASHINGTON, April 2.—There are a number of important offices yet to be filled by the nomination of the president and appointments by the heads of departments. These include the following Justice of the supreme court, solicitor general, commissioner of the general land office, commissioner of Indian affairs, public printer, superintendent of the bureau of engraving and printing, minister to Germany, minister to China, consul generals to Liverpool and Paris and all of the consulate officers; offices of the District of Columbia, including two commissioners, marshal, recorder of deeds and register of wills two civil service and one interstate commerce commissioner, local officers at New York and Philadelphia, postmasters, collectors and surveyors of ports etc.

This list is sufficient to keep the place hunters in Washington for several weeks yet, and they will be accompanied by the senators and representatives who are not satisfied to leave the selection of fortunate nominees to the executive department without their advice and suggestion To-day's developments indicate that the office of public printer will be bestowed upon none of the gentlemen who have been so far named in connection with it

REMOVED FROM OFFICE

THE GOVERNORSHIP OF ALASKA.

A Probability That Ex-Missionary Brady Will Be Appointed

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The governorship of Alaska it is said will not be given to any of the dozen or more candidates whose names have already been mentioned, but, in fact it is almost settled that ex-Missionary Brady a resident of Alaska for ten years, and at present engaged in the mercantile business in Sitka will be selected by the president to succeed Governor Swineford Brady It is urged by his friends, knows more about Alaska and its natives than any other white man, and consequently he is eminently fitted to discharge the duties of the executive

Doctor Sheldon Jackson superintendent of the schools of Alaska, has been sent down here by the people of that territory as their representative to ask that Brady be appointed and after an interview with the president recently he expressed himself as feeling confident that the wishes of the Alaska people would be respected

STANLEY'S LETTER.

A Graphic Account of the Great Explorer's Wanderings.

PERILS OF THE DARK CONTINENT.

The Party Decimated by Hostile Natives, Sickness and Starvation

ARRIVAL AT THE GREAT LAKE.

The Return for the Boat and the Meeting With Emin Pasha—Stanley's Return to His Rear Guard—Features of the Country

LONDON April 2.—Henry M Stanley's letter describes the encounter between Yambunga and Albert Nyanza It goes much into details and is very interesting The expedition which consisted of 389 officers and men started from Yambunga June 28, 1887 On the first day the expedition marched twelve miles along the river bank to Yaknarde. During the next six days the expedition marched inland in an easterly direction through a densely populated district The natives used every art known to molest and impede the advance of the party but although several conflicts took place, the party did not lose a man

From July 4 until October 18, they followed the left bank of the Aruwhimi.

On August 1 the first death occurred, the cause being dysentery So far, for thirty four days their course had been singularly successful The party now entered a wild country in their nine days' march through which their sufferings multiplied, and several deaths occurred

On August 13 on arriving at Airsibba, the natives presented a bold front and the party lost five men from poisoned arrows

August 31, the expedition met a party of Manyemas and their misfortunes began on this date. Within three days of this unfortunate meeting, twenty six men deserted.

What Stanley describes as an "awful month" begins on September 16. They left the station of the Arab chief Ugarrowa, when the expedition numbered 263 men, having lost sixty-six by desertion and death and having left ninety-six sick with Ugarrowa, which led to the Arab settlement of Kilinga Longa. The men lived on wild fruits, fungi and nuts.

LOSSES THROUGH STARVATION

Before reaching Kilinga Longa, Stanley lost fifty five men through starvation and desertion. The slave owner at Kilinga Longa tried his utmost to ruin the expedition, short of open hostilities. He insisted on his purchasing rifles, ammunition and clothing, so that the expedition left the station beggared. The men were absolutely naked, and were so weak that they were unable to carry the boat Stanley was, therefore, obliged to leave the boat, together with seventy loads of goods at Kilinga Longa under the care of surgeon Parke and Captain Nelson, the latter of whom was unable to march

After a twelve day's journey the party, on November 2, reached Ibwiri The Arab devastation, which had reached within a few miles of Ibwiri, was so thorough that not a native hut was left standing between Ugarrowa and Ibwiri What the Arabs did not destroy the elephants destroyed, turning the whole region into a horrible wilderness

Stanley continues "Our sufferings terminated at Ibwiri. We were beyond the reach of the destroyers We were on virgin soil, in a region abounding with food We, ourselves, were mere skeletons and a halt was therefore ordered for the purpose of recuperating From 289 persons we now numbered 174. Our sufferings had been so awful, the calamities so numerous and the forests so endless that our people refused to believe we would see plains and cattle the Nyanza and Emin Pasha. They had turned a deaf ear to our prayers and entreaties, and driven by hunger and suffering, they sold their rifles and equipments for a few ears of Indian corn Perceiving that mild punishment would be of no avail, I resorted to the death penalty and two of the worst cases were hanged in the presence of all We waited for thirteen days at Ibwiri The supplies were inexhaustible and our people glutted themselves with such good effect that we soon had 173 sleek and robust men

THE GREAT LAKE

When we started for Albert Nyanza, November 24 we were still 126 miles from the lake Given food the distance seemed nothing On December we emerged upon the plains, leaving the deadly and gloomy forest behind us. After 160 days of continuous gloom we saw the light of the broad day shining all around making all things beautiful The men literally leaped and yelled with joy and raced over the ground with their burdens. "On the ninth week we entered the country of the powerful chief Mazamboni The natives sighted us, but we were prepared The war cries were terrible from hill to hill, pealing across the intervening valleys. People gathered in hundreds at every point war horns and drums announcing the struggle After a slight skirmish, ending in our capturing a cow the first beef we had tasted since we left the ocean, the night passed peacefully both sides preparing for the morrow

Here Stanley narrates how the negotiations with the natives failed, how a detachment of forty persons led by Lieutenant Stairs, and another of the thirty left Zarebo and assaulted and carried the villages driving the natives into a general rout.

The march was resumed on the 12th There were constant light fights all along the route

On the afternoon of the 13th says Stanley, "we sighted the Nyanza, with Kavalli, the objective point of the expedition. When six miles off I had told the men to prepare to see Nyanza. They murmured and doubted. When they saw Nyanza below them, many came to kiss my hands. We were now 5200 feet above the sea level and 2900 above the Albert Nyanza. After a short halt to enjoy the prospect, we commenced the rugged and stony descent Before the rear guard had descended one hundred feet, natives from the plateau poured at or them keeping the rear guard busy until within a few hundred feet of the Nyanza plain. We afterwards approached the village of Kakongo, situated at the southwest corner of the Albert lake. Three hours were spent by us in attempting to make friends, but signally failed They would not exchange the blood of brotherhood, because they never heard of any good people coming from the west side of the lake They would not accept any present from us because they did not know who we were, but they would give us water to drink and show us the road up to Nyam Sassie From these singular people we learned that they had heard that there was a white man at Unyoro, but they had never heard of any white man being on the west side nor had they even seen any steamers on the lake We were shown a path We camped about half a mile from the lake and they began to consider our position.

A GREAT DISAPPOINTMENT

"My couriers from Zanzibar had evidently not arrived, or Emin Pasha with his two steamers, would have paid the southwest side of the lake a visit, to prepare the natives for our coming My boat was at Kilinga Longa 190 miles distant, and there were no canoes obtainable. There was no plan feasible except to retreat to Ibwiri, build a fort, send a party back to Kilinga Longa for a boat, store up every load in the fort not conveyable, leave a garrison in the fort to hold it, march back to Albert Lake and send the boat in search of Emin Pasha This was the plan which after lengthy discussion with the officers I resolved upon

On January 7th we were in Ibwiri once again. After a few days rest Lieutenant Stairs with one hundred men was sent to Kilinga Longa to bring the boats and goods. On the return of Stairs with the boat and goods, he was sent to Ugarrowa. He was to bring up the convalescents Soon after his departure I was attacked by gastritis and an abscess on the arm After a month's careful nursing I recovered and set out again for Albert Nyanza in April accompanied by Josephson and Parke the garrison was left at Fort Bodo On April 26 we arrived in Mazamboni's country again This time after some hesitation, Mazamboni decided to make blood brotherhood with me His example was followed by all the other chiefs as far as the Nyanza. Every difficulty seemed now to be removed. Food was supplied gratis.

EMIN PASHA.

"When one day's march from Nyanza, natives came from Kavalli, and said a white man named Malejja had given their chief a packet to give to me his son. They remained with us that night, telling us wonderful stories about big ships etc., which left no doubt upon our mind that the white man was Emin Pasha. Next day a march brought us to Chief Kavali. He handed me a note from Emin Pasha, to the effect that there had been a native rumor that a white man had been seen at the south end of the lake. He had gone in a steamer to make inquiries, but had been unable to obtain reliable information He begged me to remain where I was until he could communicate with me Next day April 23 Josephson was dispatched with a strong force to take the boat to the Nyanza.

"On April 29 we once again reached the bivouac ground occupied by us December 16 and at 5 P. M of that day I saw the Khedive (steamer) about seven miles away Soon after 7 o'clock Emin Pasha, signor Casati and Mr Josephson arrived at our camp, where they were heartily welcomed by all of us We were together until May 25, when I left him leaving Josephson, three Soudanese and two Zanzibaris in his care. Seven days later I was at Fort Bedo. At the fort were Captain Nelson and Lieutenant Stairs. The latter had returned from Ugarrowa twenty two days after I had set out for the Albert Nyanza, bringing with him alas only sixteen men out of fifty six. All the rest were dead.

On June 16 I left Fort Bedo with all the Zanzibaris and 101 of Emin's people leaving all my officers at the fort. On June 24 we reached Kilonga Longa and on July 19 Ugarrowa. The latter station was deserted.

AN AWFUL STORY

Pushing on down the river as fast as we could go only expecting to meet the couriers I had sent to Major Barttelot we indulged ourselves in pleasant anticipations as we neared the goal. August 10 we met with Ugarrowa with a flotilla of fifty seven canoes and our couriers returned to us who related an awful story of hardships, hair breadth escapes and tragic scenes. Three had been slain, two were still feeble from wounds and all except five bore on their bodies scars of arrow wounds.

A week later Stanley met the rear column of the expedition at Bunalya and found Mr Bonney. From the latter he learned greatly to his sorrow of the death of Major Barttelot by a ... of Jameson ... to Stanley Falls ... more men from Tippoo Tib. Ward was at Bangala, and Bonney was the only white man at Bunalya. After describing what he found the rear column to be ... the officers at Yambunga having accepted deserters' reports of his death and sending his personal kit medicine etc down the Congo leaving him naked of necessities for his return to Emin.

FEATURES OF THE COUNTRY

The letter then summarizes what had been accomplished. The expedition had been 160 days in one continuous unbroken compact forest. The grass land was traveled in eight days.

How far west beyond the Congo the forest reaches, Stanley does not know. The superficial extent of the tracts described above totally covered by forests, is 40,000 square miles. North of the Congo between the Lopsoto and the Aruwhimi the forest embraces another 80,000 square miles.

Between Yambunga and Nyanza Stanley came across five distinct languages. At a distance of fifty miles from the camp on the Nyanza they saw a mountain probably 17,000 or 18,000 feet in height above the sea. It is covered with snow and is called Ruwenzori and will prove a rival to Kilimanjaro. The three natives, who have seen the lake to the south agree that it is large but not so large as the Albert Nyanza.

Emin Pasha has two battalions of regulars the first consisting of 750 rifles and the second of 640. Besides these he has a respectable force of irregulars. In a conversation with Stanley Emin said that if he consented to go away from there they would have nearly ten thousand people with them. Emin was much worried to know how all the women and children numbering over 2000, could be brought away. He and Stanley discussed the matter at great length, but reached no conclusion. Emin said that the Egyptians of whom he had 100 men besides their women and children would be very willing to leave and he would be glad to be rid of them as they undermine his authority and nullify his endeavors to form a retreat. When he informed them that Khartoum had fallen and that Gordon Pasha was slain, they told the Nubians that it was a concocted story and the same day a steamer would ascend the river to their relief. Emin proposed after Stanley's departure to visit Fort Bedo.

Stanley says in conclusion that he instructed the officers at the fort to destroy it and to accompany Emin to the Nyanza. He hopes to meet them all there as he intended making a short cut to the Nyanza along the new route.

AN OPIUM SMUGGLER SENTENCED

One Year in Jail and to Pay a Fine of Fifty Dollars

SAN FRANCISCO April 2—John Burns who was convicted of attempting to smuggle opium on the steamer Empire was sentenced this morning to one year in jail and a $50 fine.

Judge Hoffman although he apparently sympathized with the unfortunate family of Burns was, however determined to carry out his original intention and refused to let the prisoner go with a fine.

"The prisoner has established by his own testimony and the court that he bought opium at a foreign port for the purpose of smuggling it into this port. The testimony shows that he bought it with money he saved from his earnings, but it is in my opinion more probable that he was furnished with funds for the purpose of carrying on his smuggling business. It seems unreasonable that a man with a large family should save $150 out of his earnings and invest it all in opium. The previous custom of releasing smugglers on the payment of small fines has greatly encouraged this illegal business. The opium ring is only too willing to pay the fines of those in their employ who are captured with contraband drug, and the alarming rate at which the habit of opium smoking is increasing among the citizens of this city is sufficient evidence that this opium business should be in every way discouraged and I propose to put a stop to it as far as my jurisdiction will permit. I have been approached by numerous parties who have asked me to be lenient with the man, as they affirm that it was his first offense. I am not of the opinion that it was his first offense, but believe that it was the first time he was detected. The opium smuggler is one of the worst offenders against the United States government. In sentencing the prisoner I will not fine him to the full extent of the law as I desire to leave some support for his family during his incarceration."

It now seems that the opium came from the China steamer Arabic. During the past few days, customs officials have been keeping an eye on this steamer which has been lying at the Pacific Mail Company's wharf. The supervision was so quietly managed that the suspected persons thought the opportunity had arrived to smuggle ashore a big load of opium and last night the transfer was accomplished. The stuff was put off in small boats and towed down to Point ... where it was concealed on the premises of Ahlf where it was seized as above recorded.

A SMUGGLER ARRESTED

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2—Charles Berry was arrested this afternoon as he was leaving the steamer City of Puebla with eight 5-tael boxes of opium concealed on his person, and booked on a charge of smuggling.

A DISGRACEFUL AFFAIR.

Judge Terry, of Unsavory Fame, Fights Bravely Over a Small Bill.

FRESNO April 2—H F Thompson, a druggist of this city to-day presented a bill to ex Judge David S. Terry for a number of articles furnished him. Terry is the man who fought and killed Senator Broderick in a duel and also the man who married Sarah Althea Hill.

Terry took the bill and inspected it closely returning it to Thompson. He then remarked positively "My wife has paid that bill."

"Possibly, but not to me," remarked the druggist.

At this the ex judge became furious. "You ——— she did pay you," he said.

Thompson replied in language equally as forcible, and concluded by repeating that Mrs. Terry had not paid the bill.

The judge stepped back a short distance and nervously fumbled at his vest, as if hunting for a weapon. He then advanced on Thompson with a flushed face and glaring eyes and the movements of an enraged tiger. When within a short distance of Thompson Terry aimed a terrific blow at the druggist. Thompson stepped aside before Terry could strike him a second time, and struck the judge over the right eye drawing a stream of blood.

By this time the vicinity of the drug store was crowded with people and mutual friends separated the combatants. As they were pulled apart an employe of Thompson rushed to the rescue of his employer. As he approached Judge Terry who was being held by three men he made a vicious kick at Williams. So wicked was the effort that Terry lost his equilibrium and fell on his back.

The bill was for $9.50. The druggist's right hand was done up in bandages.

Concerning Terry's attack, there seems to be but one opinion here. It is characterized as being entirely uncalled for. This is admitted by Terry's friends.

LOW RATES TO CALIFORNIA.

Huntington Says the Southern Pacific Can Do No More Than the Other Roads

SAN FRANCISCO April 2—At a meeting of the state Board of Trade this afternoon C. P. Huntington delivered an address with relation to what the railroads will do to bring people here. He said that there was no divided ... in any of the companies ... which he had ... to. They are all for low fares but the ... road ... to be considered. California has ... in all cases the lowest fares ... would agree to. The Southern Pacific ... do no more in the future than in the past ... the price of labor is reduced.

State Engineer Hall addressed the board on the subject of irrigation of arid lands and gave an outline of what was being done to reclaim them. He commented on the fact that the representatives of Nevada New Mexico and Western territories have been urgent in clamoring for a part of the congressional appropriation and the services of assigned engineers but that California had done very little. He urged the need of a state board or some other body taking the matter up.

ANOTHER LEGISLATIVE ERROR

A Bill That Failed to Pass Signed by the Governor

SACRAMENTO April 2—It was ascertained to-day that ... an act to regulate quarantine and ... of horses, cattle sheep and swine ... the state of California, and infected districts, did not pass the legislature, although the bill bears the signatures of the officers of both houses and the governor and is being incorporated into the statutes. The register of the senate bills shows that the bill passed the senate March 1, was transmitted to the assembly and was read the third time and refused passage. Johnson gave notice of a motion for reconsideration of the vote by which the bill was lost but he did not do so and the register bears the entry "Motion of reconsideration not called up, and the bill consigned to the senate graveyard."

A MURDER MYSTERY.

Tragic Fate of a Lonely Rancher Living Near Green River.

SEATTLE W T, April 2—It transpires that James Cregan, found dead in front of his cabin near Green River on Sunday night was murdered. Cregan was a hermit, and his body was discovered by a neighbor named William Neilson, who supposed he had died from epilepsy. He notified the doctor at Slaughter, who sent word to Coroner Smart at Seattle.

It developed in the meantime, that Cregan had been killed by a shot from a Winchester rifle. The coroner went out to the scene of the murder and brought the body to Slaughter where an inquest was held during last night and up to 2 this morning.

The most important testimony was given by Frank Smith a rancher and resident of the vicinity of the murder. He testified that he had seen two boys named Vaughn in the vicinity of the house Sunday afternoon. It appears that Cregan and the father of the Vaughn brothers have had trouble and there was much bitter feeling between them though it is claimed by some that the trouble had been settled. It is thought possible however that the older Vaughn boy aged about sixteen may have committed the murder. The motive could not have been robbery as nothing about the cabin was disturbed. The father of the Vaughn boys is said to have disappeared from the vicinity of Slaughter but notwithstanding this it is not believed here that he is the author of the deed.

No arrests have yet been made, but Deputy Sheriff Woolery of this city has been looking into the crime.

FAIR BUT FALSE.

How a Montana Enchantress Swindled a "Chump" Out of $450

HELENA April 2—M Dougherty, a man about 50 years of age, swore out a warrant for the arrest of Katie Moore, who duped him out of $450. Katie until yesterday, has been employed as a waitress at the New York restaurant, where Dougherty met her and struck up an acquaintance. The woman evidently played her cards well, as the acquaintance soon sprung into friendship, at least on the part of Dougherty.

The fair Katie unfolded a scheme to her admirer whereby they were to make lots of money, if he would only set her up in business. The scheme was to start a restaurant. There happened to be an equipment for such a business for sale at a bargain. It was the furniture and fixtures of Charles Bernard's California restaurant, which was favorably located on lower Main street, where the Bailey building is in course of erection. Dougherty willingly entered into the proposition, but the woman was business manager and had bargained Bernard to purchase his outfit for $450.

On Monday last Dougherty gave Mrs. Moore $450 to pay Bernard, the deal having been closed all but the important item of the payment of the cash.

Monday night Bernard visited the woman to get his money, but she put him off until the next day, and refused his offer to place the money in a safe for safe keeping. She put him off the following day and Wednesday also, and when he came around Thursday Mr Bernard said she seemed agitated and hardly knew what to say, but suddenly told him she had another outfit in view which she intended to take and that ended her business with Bernard.

During the same day she wrote a note to Dougherty, giving him to understand in plain language that she had the money and was going to keep it, and that if he wanted to see her he could do so by calling at her room in the St. Louis hotel. At 3:30 in the afternoon Dougherty went there, but the woman had left the night before.

Some time after the last robbery Mr Levy, who is employed in Mr Harris' store saw Thomas Ormund known also as Red wearing a pair of the stolen trousers. This clew was given to the city marshal Pat Sweeney who followed it up promptly, in concert with Sheriff Downing.

Ormund suspected something, and fled. Then a long chase began. Downing and Sweeney pursued him to the Musselshell valley ... As prices now stand those of the California company are ⅛ cent higher than the American.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.

The Democrats Make a Clean Sweep at Chicago.

AND ALSO AT SPOKANE FALLS

The Results Were Mixed in Ohio—The Republicans Get the Lion's Share at St Louis—Women Voting in Kansas

CHICAGO April 2—The municipal election held to-day in this city closed one of the hottest campaigns seen here in a number of years not excepting that of two years ago when John A Roche was nominated by the republicans and endorsed by the democrats as candidate for mayor to oppose Nelson, the candidate of the anarchist and unionist parties.

The republican ticket this time was headed by Mayor Roche and the democratic by DeWitt C Cregier who was commissioner of public works under Carter Harrison. Two weeks ago the labor party nominated Sam F Cross, a real estate and cheap home dealer but his candidacy created dissension and he withdrew and the labor party made no nomination thereafter but the socialists nominated one of their ... Their ticket however, seems to have cut but little figure at the election.

The campaign fight between the democrats and republicans was waged bitterly. Charges being brought against Cregier of incompetency when in his former position etc while a bitter fight was made against Mayor Roche on the charge that he was opposed to the ... license and favored and was supported by the surface street car monopolies and trusts. Charges of know nothingism were preferred strongly against both candidates, and it would seem that the efforts of the factions in this direction were largely nullified.

The returns received up to 10 o'clock to-night from 350 out of the 381 precincts give Cregier a majority of 9,019. His majority in the whole city will probably considerably exceed ten thousand. In the remainder of the tickets of both parties there was a great deal of scratching, and the result of the election for the other officers will not be known until a very late hour.

ALL THE DEMOCRATS ELECTED

The returns at 11:30 o'clock show that all of the candidates of the democratic city ticket are elected by pluralities averaging about 12,000. The ... west town tickets of the democrats go in and they secure the circuit judge. A considerable gain in the number of aldermen is also conceded. The only republican success was in hanging on to the south town offices by a narrow margin.

AT SPOKANE FALLS.

Overwhelming Defeat of the Republican Municipal Ticket

SPOKANE FALLS April 2—For the first time in the history of Spokane Falls the republicans last week nominated a straight party ticket for municipal officers. The campaign was short but exciting. The election was held to-day, and the vote so far as counted, indicates an overwhelming defeat of the republican ticket by the combined opposition.

The democrats elected the mayors in Akron and Springfield, and carried the principal offices in Middletown, Akron, Norwalk, Bucyrus, Fremont Circleville, Chillicothe, Portsmouth, Lancaster, Wapakoneta St. Mary's, Hamilton, Tiffin Zanesville, Newark, Kent, Canton and Sidney. The republicans are entirely or nearly so successful in Logan, Lebanon (where local option was defeated), Troy, Mount Gilead Kenton, Urbana, Piqua London, Cambridge, Ripley Vanwert, Sandusky, Wooster and Fostoria. In Kent the issue of prohibition was prominent and was carried by one vote.

AT ST LOUIS

The Offices Divided, But With the Lion's Share to the Republicans

ST LOUIS April 2—The municipal election passed quietly to-day. Complete returns at midnight show that Noonan democratic candidate for mayor has a plurality of 1600. The democrats also elect the auditor, registrar and one councilman while the republicans secure the collector comptroller, treasurer president of the board of public improvements, and four councilmen. The house of delegates will stand, eighteen republicans to eleven democrats. In the mayoralty contest Judge Noonan represented the liberal or saloon element, while Butler represented the element having prohibitory tendencies.

The South and Protection.

Wilmington (N C) Messenger, dem: We have long known that Mr Carlisle was ruining the democratic party by his arbitrary ... and ... It is none too early for the democracy of this latitude to repudiate John G Carlisle, who is but the product and creation of that miserable system of newspaper puffing which unhappily for the public good so universally obtains in this country.

Richmond (Va) Times dem: As for Mr Carlisle and Mr Mills it is safe to say that no greater fools have ever given away a great cause when the opportunity was offered to save their section. If the south will follow the lead of its popular opinion then the Carlisles and Millses will be retired and the people's cause will be put in the hands of the Northern democrats who alone can settle the difficulty.

Birmingham (Ala) Age Herald dem: In the wisdom and providence of the fathers of this country was born the great American protective tariff system. Ingrafted with the manhood and independence of the American people is the conviction that we must cling to this system of protection this means of self preservation as long as the world is divided into nations of warring, ambitious and conflicting interests.

NOTES OF PERSONS

Pigott's diary is announced for early publication. It is expected that it will surpass "Robert Elsmere" in the annual interest it will excite.

Eugene Schuyler in a letter written last month says that no American should be sent to Europe in a diplomatic capacity unless he is thoroughly conversant with the French language.

Chief Justice Fuller will visit Chicago and endeavor to make his peace with his new son in law. If the chief justice is humble enough Mr Aubery may forgive him though it is by no means certain. A son in law shouldn't be too hard on the old folks.

When Lord Beaconsfield was on his way back from the congress of Berlin he remarked to a friend "I shall not last long. When I am gone Lord Salisbury ought to be leader. And in his nephew you will find a second Pitt." The nephew of course, is Mr Balfour.

The Duke of Portland will be married to Miss Dallas Yorke on Monday, June 11. Some of the bride's Philadelphia relatives are expected at the wedding. The duke has given his fiancee the most magnificent sable cloak and a pearl necklace said to be the finest in England and he is having all the Portland jewels reset for her.

Isaiah V Williamson's failure to sign his last will does not put an end as it was reported it would to the establishment of the Free School of Mechanical Trades which he projected for Philadelphia. The sum of $2,500,000 is still available for the purpose as the matter stands, and a tract of land 180 acres in extent has been purchased for the institution.

One small boy who ran away from his home in Camden Me, and was captured in Boston, explained to the police that he wanted to have some fun and the manner in which he intended to get it can be imagined from the list of the articles he had with him. Two traveling bags, five revolvers a lot of comfortable clothing novels of the blood and thunder sort, some cigarettes five large rusty knives, several boxes of caps and a bag of powder.

A writer in the Washington Sunday Capital says: "I am informed that President Harrison holds family prayers in the White house every morning. At half past 7 o'clock the family assembles in the library where General Harrison reads a chapter in the Bible which he explains in a few words. The Lord's prayer is then repeated by the entire family and the exercises end. It has always been the custom for the Harrisons to have morning family worship and their occupancy of the White house will not interrupt the custom."

When Mr Bayard became secretary of state he found just above his desk the portraits of Abraham Lincoln Daniel Webster and U S Grant. The combination did not please him and he banished Webster to an ante room and hung a picture of Mr Cleveland in the vacant place. When Mr Blaine came to the desk two weeks ago he looked at the picture of Mr Cleveland with displeasure. Calling one of his assistants he whispered to him earnestly for a few moments. The following day the face of Cleveland disappeared and Webster's strong countenance again held the place of honor.

The Rev Dr Scott, President Harrison's father in law, keeps steadily at work at his desk in the pension office. His daughters and the president himself have asked him to resign his position, but he refuses to live in idleness. Shortly after the election Mrs Harrison wrote to her father asking him to quit work and live at the White house. Her husband also wrote to Dr. Scott, cordially supporting his wife's request. But the old gentleman sturdily refused the temptation, and said that he had been so long used to the routine of his office that he could not give it up. His companions in the pension bureau say that his habits and manner have not changed at all since last November.

REVIEW OF THE YEAR.

The current month completes the first year of the board as at present constituted. That it has been a busy year the reports of our work which have been made from month to month are abundant evidence. I deem it not advisable to enter upon a lengthy review of the year and its results, having in previous reports commented upon these matters. A brief summary of our work, however, is due subscribers to the immigration fund whose generous contributions have made it possible to accomplish the gratifying work which it is my great pleasure to record. In succinct form the record of the year is as follows:

No. of visiting immigrants at board rooms	...,4...0
No. of letters received	1,...
No. of reduced rate certificates issued	491
No. of pieces of literature distributed	1...,3...0

It is scarcely necessary, I believe, to comment upon the practical results of the above work. In proof of the large influx of newcomers to our state we have only to refer to the crowded condition of every city and town in our commonwealth. Portland alone, according to the most conservative estimate, has added not less than 14,000 to her resident population during the past year, and the present extraordinary demand for new houses indicates a rapid growth in the city's population.

Throughout the Willamette valley the increase has been very marked. A prominent citizen of Eugene City, Mr. S. P. Slafton, states that not less than 1100 new people have located in that city and vicinity during the year, and newcomers are constantly arriving. B. S. Cook, of the Oregon Land Company, Salem, states that fully ... people have been added to the permanent population of the capital city during the year. In Oregon City there has been a very large increase, so much so that groups of two and three families are living in the same houses all over the town. Not a vacant house is to be seen in either Oregon City or Canemah—something which has not been known for years. Albany has increased her population over 1200 and is predicting a large increase for the current year. In Ashland an increase of over 800 is reported and the city has made substantial progress. Grant's Pass and Roseburg have had a very healthy growth. They are both, at this time, preparing to make a special effort to advertise their advantages. In Tillamook county the increase has been phenomenal. The vast undeveloped resources of that section of our state embraced in Clatsop, Columbia and Tillamook counties are attracting much attention from newcomers, and new settlers are daily making locations in those counties. On the west side of the Willamette there has been a marked growth notably in the Chehalem valley, which has made a special effort to advertise its resources. The citizens of Independence and Corvallis are preparing to set forth their advantages in practical shape, and will undoubtedly reap valuable results in consequence.

From Eastern Oregon we have flattering reports of substantial progress. Many new towns have been established and all the old ones have felt the stimulus of immigration. Throughout all portions of Washington territory very marked advance has been made in all directions, and the activity at present is very noticeable.

Until within the past few months Washington has undoubtedly led the state of Oregon in actual arrivals. The tide of immigration for 1889, however, has set in strongly for this state and we are now decidedly in advance of our prosperous neighbor in the number of new comers. Nor is this advance merely a "spurt." Conversation with shrewd observers from all sections of the Union elicits the information that Oregon is now the section uppermost in the minds of people thinking of moving. Railroad officials state that the volume of inquiry regarding Oregon is very marked, and indicates a vast tide of immigration to our borders in the near future. Our own correspondence is equally promising, telling of whole communities who are preparing to remove to this the most productive and healthful of states.

SPLENDID RESULTS SHOWN.

These indications should be exceedingly gratifying to this board, for it is undoubtedly a fact that the splendid results of the year as well as the promising outlook for the future, are due entirely to the information disseminated broadcast by this body.

One year ago there was a sneer of triumph in the tone of our neighbors to the north and south, coupled with a tendency to sneer at Oregon and her rainfall and at Portland and her ... From there was heard the ambitious boast of new cities to the north that Portland was ... in the race for metropolitan importance, coupled with abuse of her shipping interests and falsehoods about her harbor. To-day the situation is different. The light of truthful information has been shed broadcast throughout the Union. Oregon is understood now in her true light as the brightest star in the Pacific galaxy. Her glorious climate has been a constant source of wonder and delight to thousands of strangers who have sojourned here during the winter, and the encomiums lavished upon her through the medium of newspaper and private correspondence will bring to her shores thousands of substantial, honest people who will make permanent homes within her borders.

Portland has eclipsed her record. The increase in her population for 1888 alone nearly equals the entire population of certain cities to the north, while her business record and the number and character of her public improvements stamp her as the ... of the coast in proportion to population. The boast of outstripping Portland is silenced forever, and all the ... and all the misrepresentations are gradually rebounding upon those who uttered them.

You will pardon, gentlemen, the sentiment thus expressed. I have been a patient auditor for one year of thousands of strangers who have related to me the vast and varied misrepresentations of Portland and Oregon, which have been sown broadcast by people to the north of us, and I would not be true to the city of my choice if I did not feel elation in the fact of her triumph and advancement. That these misrepresentations were not indorsed by our northern neighbors in general, I am well aware. They were ill-timed and ill advised utterances of adventurous boomers, and will in the nature of things be forgotten in the great community of business and social interests and friendships which must ever bind together Washington and Oregon. That our sister state shall prosper, we shall ever hope; but misrepresentations of Oregon we must certainly combat. The prosperity which now smiles upon every portion of the Pacific Northwest is conducive of a friendly feeling, which it is hoped will increase with the years to come.

THE MONTH OF MARCH.

The business of the board for the month of March is the most remarkable in its history. The number of visiting immigrants is nearly equal to that of any previous two months of the year, while the volume of correspondence is fully up to the average. The expectations expressed by your secretary at the beginning of the current year are being fully realized. We will have an immense immigration in 1889 and of a character which will cover all that can be desired.

TWO COLONIES LOCATED.

The board has been influential during the month in locating two Michigan colonies—one the Marrl... people numbering about 1000 and the other of some twenty five people from Northern Michigan. A considerable colony from Iowa also settled during the month. Correspondence looking to the settlement of a number of families from Utah, Kansas and Minnesota has been carried on, the practical outcome of which will develop probably during April.

During the month of February a considerable distribution of matter was made in the states south of the Ohio river. This has elicited a marked demand in that section, notably in the country tributary to the Illinois Central railroad, which company has made formal application for Oregon printed matter to be distributed in your ... Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana. I have to record a marked increase in the number of inquiries from Alabama and Texas, many of which contain requests for information of ... lands and prices of the same. The latter feature, however, is characteristic of all the board's correspondence. It indicates that the writers have determined in their minds the objective point of their journeys and are in search of accurate information.

In response to requests we have sent two compact exhibits ... to Pittsburg, Pa., one for the Union Pacific Railway office there and the other for ... Experience has demonstrated that much practical good is accomplished through the medium of such exhibits.

GRANGE ORGANIZATIONS.

Grand Lecturer Interviewed—Oregon Has Eighty Granges—A Total Membership of 3200.

John C. Simpson, lecturer of the Oregon State Grange, was in the city yesterday on business connected with the lecture field in Multnomah county. To an OREGONIAN reporter Mr. Simpson stated that since his appointment as state lecturer, last October, he has been constantly at work as lecturer and organizer in Linn, Marion, Clackamas, Benton, Polk, Yamhill, Washington and Multnomah counties. As to the membership of the grange he said:

"In this jurisdiction two months ago there were eighty granges, with a membership of 3200. There has been a large increase since. Since the 8th of last October twelve new granges have been organized, and four granges have been reorganized.

"No, all that work was not done by me. I have organized three granges and reorganized one. I am the only organizer in the field.

"I have not visited Washington territory nor Eastern Oregon, but will visit Southern Oregon after the session of the State Grange in May next, as there are no granges in Oregon south of Lane county."

In reply to a question as to what counties have been greatly benefited by the grange, he said:

"From a social and educational standpoint, I think the work is manifest in the farming in Linn, Lane, Marion, Yamhill, Washington and Clackamas counties. Co-operation strikes other interests. I don't care to say anything about co-operation. The farmers who attend the grange, and exchange views in regard to the best methods of husbandry, and who listen to prepared essays on farm work, soon become keen observers. Learn the mechanical and other conditions of the soil to produce a good crop.

"In the sections where the farmers are educators of themselves and keeping up with the times is where the greatest prosperity is apparent. No, there will not be as much ground in wheat this year; the acreage is one-third less than last, all wheat don't pay as well as mixed farming, transportation is too high for all wheat, more mixed farming I regard as progress.

"The crop prospects in Western Oregon are very flattering, they are better than for a number of years past, although the crop last year was a very large one. The young grain is very rank now, the farmers are pasturing it down with sheep. I have seen some who have mown it down, of course, putting on sheep is the best for then the pasture is saved, the ground is damp enough, and don't need the cut grain as a fertilizer or as a mulch. All rank grain should be pastured off early in the spring."

Mr. Simpson is a resident of Lane county, and is a practical farmer. He advances no theories, and his ideas are all decidedly practical. After a few days' stay in Multnomah county he will go to his farm in Lane county for a few weeks, then to the lecture field again.

DOWN WHERE THE TIDE ROLLS IN

A Pretty Picture on the Lower Columbia—Water Front Sold—Election of Officers—Fishing Season

Astoria.

Sheriff Smith has collected taxes amounting to $41,614 31, leaving $12,0... 88 delinquent.

The Presbyterian Sunday school has elected C. A. Hansen, superintendent; J. T. Ross, assistant superintendent; C. C. Brower, secretary; John Bryce, treasurer and librarian; H. C. Thompson, chorister and Mrs. Randalls, organist.

A good deal of valuable property has changed hands this season. The latest not... is the I. X. L. cannery property, which was bought by the Clatsop Mill Company last Saturday for $6000. It is 100 feet front, and about 200 feet deep.

The Astoria Lawn Tennis Club is the latest social organization. The members have elected Will A. Sherman, president; Ebben ... Rogers, secretary and treasurer. The club has leased the lot of Mrs. Boelling in the rear of the opera house.

Quite a number of boats went out Sunday night and early Monday morning. Several came in Monday morning, averaging four fish to the boat, there appearing to be more flounders than salmon. Later on some boats came in with from nine to thirty five to a boat.

There was a big spread of canvas on the river yesterday, and the old familiar sight was visible of myriads of sails tacking and beating before the wind. For the next hundred and odd days the Lower Columbia will present a sight that for busy life and changing beauty is unequaled anywhere.

Astoria Carpenters Union, No. 1...0, has been organized. The officers are: President, Mat Kronquist; vice president, D. Herth; corresponding secretary, Fred Wright; financial secretary, J. F. Schothan; treasurer, Jacob Gustafson; conductor, John Nyland; warden, Wm. Chadwick; trustees, C. J. Kimball, Wm. Atkins and Andrew Anderson.

There was a pretty picture on the river at 6:30 last evening. The wind was blowing fresh from the northwest, the water was an ashen gray, with broad strips of green; beyond the Brookfield hills hung a heavy bank of somber cloud, a hundred boats were rounding Tongue point as a broad band of level sunlight lit up the point and its emerald high..., shining brightly on the glancing sails of the ... fleet and the sparkling water that changed to blue and rippling gold as the sun and shadow raced along the waves.

GAVE UP ITS DEAD.

The Body of F. A. Sandstrom Found in the Lower Columbia.

A special correspondent writing from St. Helens, Oregon, sends the following:

Last Friday afternoon the body of a man was found lodged against the river bank a short distance above Enterprise landing, two miles below St. Helens. A coroner's jury was summoned and an inquest held by Justice Stephens. A verdict of accidental drowning was rendered. The man was dressed in blue overalls, and blue flannel shirt, and appeared to be about 40 years of age, and a river man by occupation. In his pockets were found a watch and chain, $32 35 in money and a lot of papers from which it appeared his name was Franz August Sandstrom. He was a native of Sweden, and his naturalization papers had been taken out in Sweetwater county, Wyoming. The body was so much decomposed that it was buried near where it was found.

Do not lie awake nights and cough! Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will relieve the cough and induce a good night's rest.

EAST PORTLAND MATTERS.

A New Boulevard Planned—An April Fool Trick.

Suburban Railway Talk—The Oaks Base Ball Club —A Civil Suit That Attracted Much Attention

The East Side has long been in need of a road which would be a popular drive and present a succession of panoramic views of the country it traversed. It is stated that such a boulevard is now in contemplation and is likely to become an accomplished fact. The owners of the Creighton tract Piedmont and the lands lying between are now making arrangements to continue what is known as Ainsworth avenue from where it will connect with the popular Vancouver road east, ... to connect on with the Sandy road. ... Jewel then continue will be eighty feet wide and over two miles long, on an air line.

When completed, people driving to Vancouver, on striking the river road, will drive two miles east, thence one mile south to the Creighton tract, through it a ... two miles west to Vancouver road and then to Portland. ... the drive would become a very popular one, and it is hoped it will be opened.

A CASE IN JUSTICE COURT.

Justice Mayo had his judicial hands full yesterday, and his court room, too. The attraction was a civil suit, wherein Dr. S. S. Smith sued J... ... for $2.00 alleged to be due on account of house care, and the judge having stowed away in his capacious stomach several bushels of the doctor's ... at all ... but at intervals. The ... and the jury of ... Mr. John H. Hall ... The case was hotly contested ... for the ... a very good case, but not quite good enough as the verdict was against him. The judge did not ... that the ... and that the ... were ... but that he had used the doctor's horse and buggy, but he had received the favors as an act of kindness from his neighbor Smith and that he did not expect to pay for them. This view of the case governed the jury in making up their decision.

RAILWAY MATTERS.

The graders on the extension of the Sunnyside railway to Mount Tabor are at work on the line where it passes through the ... place, and every effort is being made to push the road to its terminus on that magnificent slope. The track will be laid this month. It is expected that the motor ordered some time ago will arrive about the middle of the month. When the railway is completed to Mount Tabor, cars will be operated both ways, passing each other midway, perhaps at Sunnyside.

The Portland and Vancouver Railway Company is also expecting the motor ordered some time ago. It will be much heavier and larger than the one in use on the line. A force of men are at work putting in new bents under the track on Water and J streets.

It is stated that work has commenced on the Hawthorne avenue railway at the east end of the line. The force will work this way.

A FAREWELL TO DR. DRIVER.

A very pleasant farewell reception was tendered Rev. I. D. Driver and his wife, Monday night, in the M. E. church. Mrs. D. R. Young presented Mrs. Driver with a large and comfortable arm rocking-chair. Then C. W. Boers, secretary of the Portland Y. M. C. A., came forward, and after a few very appropriate remarks, referring to Rev. Driver's work for the past two and a half years, presented him with a finely finished gold headed cane, bearing the inscription, "Presented to Rev. I. D. Driver by the members of Centenary M. E. church of East Portland, Or., April 1, 1889." Mr. Driver responded in his usual pleasing manner. W. H. Moore then came forward and presented to Mr. Driver as a special token of kind remembrance from Mrs. Moore, a gold eye-glass chain and stated that Mrs. Moore was unable to be present, but sent this by him as a token of her regard and love for him as her pastor and for the kindness he had shown her during her late sickness.

HASTY MARRIAGE.

While Justice Mayo was engaged in holding court yesterday some one came in and whispered something into his ear. He adjourned court for ten minutes and went out into the hall. At the end of that time he came back with a quiet smile on his face. It transpired that he had performed the marriage ceremony in the hall, by which M. Neall, of Coos county, and Miss H. Conway, of of Multnomah, were made man and wife. There were only two or three witnesses, and when the ceremony was finished the couple went their way rejoicing.

NEW BUILDINGS.

Otto Kleeman, the architect, has just completed plans for a fine residence for Mr. L. F. ... to be erected on O and ... streets. It will be a two-story modern finished residence. The contract will be awarded to-morrow.

The construction of a cottage for Rudolph Schmeer, on Fourteenth and ... streets, costing $1700, will shortly be commenced.

A cottage for Mr. George Hersey will be built on Brooklyn heights as soon as the contract for the work has been awarded. It will cost about $1200.

AN APRIL FOOL.

Monday night as the motor and cars on the Sunnyside railway were rounding the curve near Harrison addition, the engineer saw what he supposed was a man waving his hand as if he wanted the car to stop and take him on. The "man" stood with his arm extended but as the motor slowed up, he fell down. An investigation was made, and it was found that some one had dressed and set up a dummy as an April fool. The scheme worked to perfection. In the partial darkness the figure certainly did look very much like a man.

THE OAKS.

This is the title of a club that has just been organized, with W. E. Parrott, manager, W. J. Partlow, secretary, Henry Bilger, treasurer. The members of this club average about 17 years of age, and they enter the diamond field with a determination to win laurels. Uniforms have just been obtained that are very neat. They consist of white pants and blue shirts, with the words, The Oaks, across the breasts. The manager of the club says a challenge will be sent the Albina club the game to come off at that place Sunday.

INSTRUCTIVE LECTURE IN EAST PORTLAND.

The next lecture of the popular East Portland lecture course, at the Adams street M. E. church, will be given this evening, by Rev. S. R. Janney, late of Calcutta, India. Subject— With a Brahmin Priest Through Guzerat."

NEEDED FIRE CISTERNS.

The movement to have fire cisterns at Fourteenth and I and Twelfth and G streets should succeed. There are extensive property interests in that neighborhood and there is no protection. The cisterns should be constructed at once.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

Judge Bullock was on the street yesterday, but rather enfeebled by his recent illness.

The offices of L. H. Wells, reporter, and C. N. Rankin, route agent of THE DAILY OREGONIAN and Evening Telegram, are at Lambert & Sargent's real estate office, 1117, Fourth street.

The steamer Sellwood, that has just been entirely rebuilt in the Willamette shipyard, has been launched. She is an exceedingly trim little craft in her new condition. The name Sellwood will not likely be retained.

LET SOME ONE MAKE A START

The Hearty Co-operation of the Citizens Is Earnestly Desired.

The executive committee appointed by the First regiment, O. N. G., to arrange the preliminaries for properly celebrating the 100th anniversary of the inauguration of Washington on April 30, had a meeting with the directors of the Industrial Association last night, and the result of the conference was that the First regiment was requested to assume the management of the whole affair. The splendid new exposition building will be opened and a programme for the evening was partially arranged. The co-operation of the citizens is necessary in order to furnish an attractive programme for the afternoon. It will cost something to have all the companies of the battalion here. The day is to be observed generally throughout the country and Portland should not be behind, especially when there is the finest exposition building on the coast to be opened. Some patriotic citizen should make a start in this matter, and aid the First regiment boys in making the celebration a grand success in every respect.

NEWS NOTES FROM FARMINGTON

FARMINGTON, W. T., April 1, 1889.

During the past week, owing to the improved condition of the roads, considerable lumber has been hauled to the town and carpenters are in demand. Some fifteen carloads of lumber arrived from below during the week for the new elevator and the foundation is already in place.

The rumor was heard on the streets during the week that the N. P. R. R. would build into Farmington during the summer. Although there is nothing stronger than rumor upon which to depend, yet the people are much in hopes to see it is step carried out, as it will not only offer the advantages derived from competing roads but will divide the best portion of the Palouse country between the two companies. This step, it is believed, will receive the hearty support of all citizens both financially and otherwise.

Considerable real estate has changed hands during the week, and an immensely large number of strange faces are daily seen on our streets.

F. P. Dorris commences the construction of a large addition to his hardware store to-day, thus making another improvement to be placed on the already long list of '89.

An improvement which has long been needed by the people of Idaho, living east of town, it is learned, will soon be made, namely, the opening of a county road, running southeast of town and connecting with the present traveled road, thus making a saving of several miles, besides avoiding a number of bad hills.

The city election is being held to-day and three tickets are in the field.

The residence property of General Tannatt has been the busy scene for carpenters during the past week, and is much improved in appearance.

During the past week the burglar has created considerable excitement among the residents and merchants report an extraordinary sale of revolvers and window fastenings.

HOUSELESS AND DESTITUTE.

A Prairie Fire Destroys an Entire Dakota Village.

ST. PAUL, April 2.—A Pioneer Press special from Bell Dakota, says: The village of Mt. Pleasant was almost entirely consumed by fire this afternoon. All of the business part of town is burned. Every business house and nearly all of the residences are destroyed. The depot, together with about fifteen or twenty freight cars and four large elevators, is gone. The loss will be nearly $...0,000, with but very little insurance, and a hundred families are left homeless and utterly destitute.

It was caused by a prairie fire, which came in from the northwest. One hundred citizens from Mitchell went up to help fight the fire and their efforts availed but little.

MANY HOUSES BURNED.

YANKTON, Dak., April 2.—The report comes that Volin, ten miles east of here, was burned to-night. The buildings destroyed were the station agent's residence, depot, two dwelling houses and a large flouring mill. Thousands of tons of hay were burned, and all of the barns in the place. The fire invaded a large cattle corral and forty or fifty cattle were badly burned. The rest broke through the enclosure and escaped. The destruction was caused by a prairie fire, which at last accounts was still burning.

A special from Andover, D. T., says the residence of A. Swane, about a mile from town, burned, together with most of its contents. The inmates were at dinner when the prairie fire was discovered and all rushed for the door, barely in time to save their lives.

At Sacred Heart, Minn., the house of Charles Johnson, a bachelor, living alone, was discovered by neighbors to be on fire, and before they could reach it it was entirely destroyed. Johnson's remains were taken from the ruins charred and unrecognizable.

A YOUNG GIRL FATALLY BURNED.

RAPID CITY, D. T., April 2.—A prairie fire started one mile northeast of here at noon to-day, and was driven by a sixty mile gale with destruction in its path. Three houses were burned, one of them occupied by Mrs. Bole..., a girl companion of 17 years, named Flossie Madison, and a hired girl named ... ... catching her clothing burned ... completely from her body. She was taken to a neighbor's and lies at the point of death. The house and household goods are a total loss.

FIGHTING FIRE.

SIOUX FALLS, Dak., April 2.—To-day a terrific gale is prevailing throughout this section. Rumors come that the entire population of Beaver Creek, Minn., thirty miles east, are fighting fire. Also that ... fires prevail in various parts of southwestern Minnesota. The wires are badly demoralized and the rumors cannot be verified, but the prairies are exceedingly dry and the wind is very high, and grave fears are felt of a wide spread calamity.

GALES AND PRAIRIE FIRES.

Much Damage Done Throughout Portions of Dakota.

ST. PAUL, April 2.—Specials to the Pioneer Press from Dakota and Minnesota report severe gales, with considerable damage.

At Jackson, Minn., the severest storm that has prevailed in that country for years was experienced. This afternoon a prairie fire was raging near the village, and only the most strenuous efforts prevented the destruction of the place.

News from the prairie gives the report of great loss of property.

At Gary, Dakota, the wind blew with great force and the air was filled with sand and dust to such an extent as to render it quite dark. The mercury fell sixteen degrees in ... hour ... ... at ready sown are thought to be much injured.

Aberdeen reports that roofs have been blown off. The Park Hotel, hotels, mills, Excelsior block and many other buildings were otherwise damaged. As far as reported no one was hurt.

EVICTED SETTLERS.

They Defy the Owners of the Farms and the Officials of the Law

FORT DODGE, Iowa, April 2.—Charles Pigman, who purchased the Spainhower place on the Snell estate after Spainhower had been evicted, returned to his farm after two hours' absence and found his fields filled with farmers busily engaged in ploughing and putting in seed. William Spainhower, the former occupant of the place, was at the head of the crowd which has taken possession of the place. The others present were George Hoover, Roney Hoover, Louis Hoover, Samuel Heffner, ex county supervisor, John Taylor and Ben Burr.

Mr. Pigman was in the city yesterday. He said that the settlers told him that they would go ahead and farm every piece of the land from which the men were evicted, and would openly defy the officials. They have already taken similar possession of the Ferguson, Hoover and Browning farms, from which the settlers were evicted.

MURDER ON THE HIGH SEAS.

A Captain and Two Mates Charged With the Awful Crime.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Six sailors, in charge of a detective, appeared before United States Commissioner Shields to day, and charged Captain Hackster and Mates Beveridge and Campbell, of the bark St. Andrews, with murdering one of the crew, named Elias Neilson, a Norwegian. The men said that they left London February 17, and that shortly after that the captain and two mates began to treat Neilson most brutally. They beat him with marlin spikes and knocked him down with a block of wood. He died March 2 and was buried at sea by the other sailors on the vessel.

NOT TO BE CAUGHT.

General Boulanger Leaves Paris and Circumvents the Government Officials.

PARIS, April 2.—The chamber of deputies, by a vote of 3...0 to 2...6, rejected the senate's proposal to prosecute summarily all of the papers guilty of libeling the government officials.

The Cocarde says that Gen. Boulanger, being warned yesterday that the government was preparing for a coup, arranged it so that he should not fall into the government's trap, and left the city. The police are mystified.

The general adds the Cocarde "will appear when duty requires him." It is the impression that he has hidden himself temporarily, perhaps in Brussels.

A WRONGED HUSBAND'S VENGEANCE.

He Cuts to Pieces the Man Who Destroyed His Home

TEXARKANA, Tex., April ...—A farmer named S. W. Wilkins who lives near Marshall, Tex., was called away from home two weeks ago and on his return found that a man in his employ, named Sutton, and his wife had decamped. He started in search of them and located them near Texarkana. The wronged husband dashed into the room brandishing a huge knife, with which he attacked the destroyer of his home, and literally cut him to pieces. Wilkins escaped.

The Cleveland Party.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 2.—Cleveland and party spent the forenoon fishing up Jupiter Inlet. At 1:30 the party started on its trip North. It will leave Titusville to-morrow noon, reaching here Thursday morning.

Reservations on any steamship line in the Atlantic service to Europe can be secured at Northern Pacific ticket office, No. 121 First street, corner Washington.

THE NAVAL DISASTER.

Orders Given to Fasten the Work of Preparation.

THE GERMAN SHIPS DESCRIBED

Klein Tells the State Department What He Knows About the Samoan Trouble—Shipwrecked Men Homeward Bound.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Orders have been given by the navy department to work extra hours in preparing the Adams, Iroquois and Pensacola for sea. The Iroquois is at Mare Island, California, and can be made ready in six weeks. The Pensacola is at Norfolk, and one month's work will make her ready. The department has not yet decided where the Iroquois and Pensacola will be sent, but they will be available for service in Samoa if it should be necessary for their presence there.

... ... commandant of the marine corps has furnished the navy department with the following list of marines supposed to have been lost on the Vandalia: First Sergeant John Hand..., Sergeant Frank ..., Corporal Michael ..., ... Gardner, Frank Jones, George Jordan, Nicholas Kutsch..., Montgomery, John Samp..., ..., Samuel J. ... and Joseph We... ... also ... that ... lost three names, ... C. Gehring, Charles Krauss and Henry Wexted.

SYMPATHY FROM ENGLAND.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Secretary Tracy to-day received from Lord Charles Beresford, of the English navy, the following cablegram:

LONDON.

To the secretary of the American Navy: Allow me to express the heartfelt sympathy and regret that myself and brother officers feel in the loss sustained by the American navy.

CHARLES BERESFORD.

THE GERMAN WAR SHIPS.

Formidable Character of Those That Will Be Sent to Samoa.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The German vessels Sperber and Alexandrine which are now on their way to Samoa to replace the wrecked vessels are very formidable ships, and in a long range fighting would have a decided advantage over American vessels, owing to their superior armament and speed.

The corvette Alexandrine is of wood, iron and steel, and is of 2373 tons burden. She is of fifteen knots speed. Her battery is made up of twelve 5½ inch, four ton, breech loading rifles, two 3½ inch and four revolving cannon, and a torpedo tube and equipment.

The Sperber is a new cruiser of composite type, of 1...0 tons burden, four ... and a half knots speed, and armed with 4½-inch Krupp rifles, four Hotchkiss revolving cannon and two torpedo tubes. Neither of the vessels is armored, but it will be noted that the ... speed is about 50 per cent. greater than that of the American vessels ordered to Samoa, and that their guns are of greater range.

KLEIN TESTIFIES.

He Tells the State Department What He Knows About the Samoan Trouble.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—J. C. Klein, the correspondent at Samoa, visited Washington twice last week, having been summoned by the state department for the purpose of testifying in relation to the outrages committed by the Germans while he was there. He also explained his connection with the events leading up to the battle of Vagali. His testimony completely refuted the charges made by the Germans against him, of having fired upon their sailors and ordered the soldiers of Mataafa to do so.

The affidavits of Klein and three of Mataafa's soldiers, who were with him at the battle, made before United States Vice-Consul Blalock at Apia, will be taken by the commissioners appointed by the United States to Berlin.

Klein has had three private interviews with Blaine. The correspondent will not go to Berlin, at least for the present.

EN ROUTE TO GERMANY.

Shipwrecked Germans Arrive at Auckland on Their Way Home.

AUCKLAND, April 2.—The government of New Zealand has placed the steamship Hanemoa, of 542 tons, at the disposal of Admiral Kimberly in consequence of the loss of the American men-of war at Samoa.

The British cruiser Royalist, 1420 tons, mounting twelve guns, has sailed for Samoa.

One hundred and twenty officers and men belonging to the wrecked German war ships, have arrived here en route to Germany.

THE SOUTH SEA HURRICANE.

One British and Two American Vessels Wrecked, Besides Those at Samoa.

AUCKLAND, April 2.—The recent hurricane in the South Pacific ocean swept over 1200 geographical miles, embracing in its track the Hervey and Society groups of islands. The American ship Red Cross from New South Wales for San Francisco, was driven ashore at Rarotonga and wrecked. The crew were saved. The American ship Ada Owen was wrecked at Quara. The crew were saved. Wreckage from the British ship Suakim, from New South Wales for San Francisco, was seen at Aitutaki. It is supposed that the crew perished.

THE CHARLESTON'S BATTERY.

Ten Heavy Guns To Be Shipped from Annapolis to California.

BALTIMORE, April 2.—The quartermaster's department at Washington has made arrangements with the Baltimore & Ohio railroad for the delivery of three flat cars at Annapolis, which will be used to transport ten heavy guns to the navy yard at Mare Island, California. The guns will be placed on the cars to-day and probably leave Annapolis to-night. The battery is to be placed in the new cruiser the Charleston.

Now is the Time

To purify your blood and fortify your system against the debilitating effect of spring weather. At no other season is the bitter taste in the mouth more prevalent, the breath so offensive, the drowsy dizziness so frequent, or that extreme tired feeling so prevalent. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine to build up the system, purify the blood, cure biliousness and headache, overcome that tired feeling and create a good appetite. Try it this spring.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla is a standard remedy in this 'Wild West,' and it is well from the source of the Willamette to the mouth of the Columbia." FRITZ BEAL, 16th and S streets, Portland, Or. The oldest druggist in Oregon.

The peculiar curative power of Hood's Sarsaparilla is shown by the many remarkable cures it accomplishes where others fail.

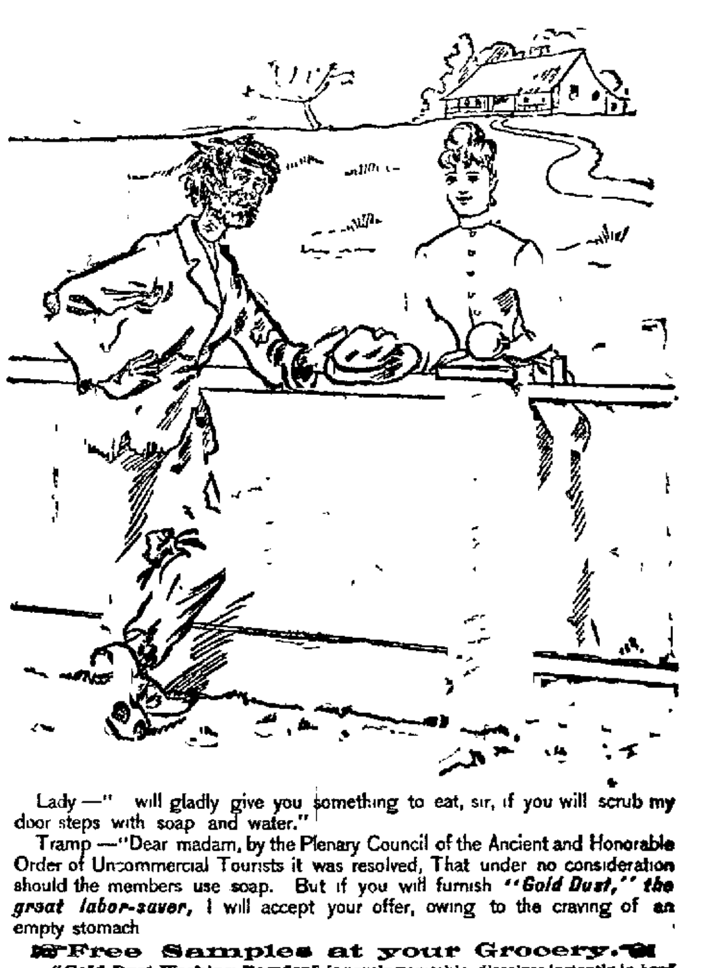

"I wish to enroll my name as one of those who have derived health from the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla. For many years I have taken it, especially in the early spring, when I am troubled with dizziness, dullness, unpleasant taste in my mouth in the morning. It removes this bad taste, relieving headache, and makes me feel greatly refreshed. The two bottles I have used this spring have been worth a dollar a dose. I advise all my friends to take it." PORTLAND, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 3.

SECRET SESSIONS OF THE SENATE.

Senator Teller has made an appeal for the abrogation of secret sessions of the United States senate for the consideration of executive nominations that will meet popular approval. It is possible that questions might come before that body that it would be prudent to discuss in secret, but these are rare, and certainly the confirmation of executive appointments is not one of them. Senators who wish for a chance to take revenge upon a whilom political bedfellow for some slight, real or fancied, or for some criticism, merited or otherwise, find in the secret executive session a despicable means to an unworthy end, and do not hesitate to make use of it. The secret session constitutes the senatorial sneak's opportunity, and he never fails to avail himself of it as a chance to compass the disappointment of a better and more honorable man. There are other and perhaps more weighty reasons why a star chamber is not a proper adjunct to a republican form of government which are familiar through repeated statement. It is doubtful, however, whether there is a reason that appeals more directly to justice than this one which is opposed to giving a small-souled man a chance to express himself by speech and vote, in a way that he would not find courage to do in open session. Senator Teller has given notice that he will press his resolution to abolish secret sessions in considering executive nominations, in season and out of season, during the next session of the senate, and it is hoped that the discussion thus opened upon the question will force it to a decided issue. Public sentiment is almost a unit in favor of the resolution, and even so exclusive, and in a certain sense so privileged a body as the United States senate can ill afford to run counter to the universal will of the people.

THE SCHOOL AGE.

There has been some discussion in educational circles in the East lately, relative to the proper time for children to enter school. The systematic schooling of children of tender years is by many deemed most unwise, as tending to the development of the brain in advance of the physical—a mistake which if made is practically irretrievable. On the other hand it is contended, and not without reason, that the wholesome restraint of the school-room is far better for a child of from 5 to 7 years than the tutelage of the street and the association of chance companions. Of course it is possible for thoughtful, judicious parents to steer between these two extremes in the management of their children, but the majority of parents, especially in the crowded portions of the cities, are not of this class, and for the children of such the school, even at a very early age is preferable to the lessons of the street.

To meet the want in such cases, free kindergartens have been established in many if not in most of the larger cities, and their benefits are beyond calculation. Their work is specifically confined to the care and instruction of little ones who, laying aside all question as to the advisability of sending them to the public schools on their own account, are a constant source of annoyance to the overworked teachers of the primary grades.

As a rule, the mental effort required of children in the elementary grades of the public schools is slight. "Cramming," which is a feature of modern educational methods later on does not begin here, and as the confinement to which they are subjected is restricted to a very few hours each day, it is not probable that the child from 5 to 8 years old suffers to any great extent from weariness from attending school. The difficulty in meeting this question by general rule is that all children are not alike in temperament and capacity, while the rule must be uniform. The state recognizes this, and while fixing the school age often as low as 4 years, it leaves the matter to the discretion of the parents. One child is better fitted to attend school at the age of 5 years than another is at the age of 7. Early attendance may weaken physically and impair the originality of one child, while another might receive wholesome stimulant in both directions therefrom. In any case it is safe to say that where a child is ordinarily active and healthful there is little danger that he will be injured during the short intervals devoted to instruction and restraint in the lowest grade of our public schools. The common belief among thinking men and women that the effect of premature schooling is detrimental to the growth and health of the child and tends to cripple its mental force is, it is probable, largely due to overstrained parental affection, the tendency of which is to coddle and indulge, rather than to develop and make the child self-dependent.

BEHRING SEA.

To many persons it has long seemed wrong that the United States should grant an exclusive right to one corporation to take seals in Alaskan waters, and it is often asserted that seal-catching should be thrown open on equal terms to all wishing to engage in it.

The privilege is made exclusive solely for the purpose of preventing utter annihilation of the seals. If all persons were allowed to go and take them, not a representative of the seal family would remain five years hence. The only way to prevent their extinction is to limit the "catch," enact rigorous regulations, and keep trustworthy agents of the government on the ground to see that the same are enforced.

The recent proclamation by the president forbidding "all persons entering the waters of Behring sea within the dominion of the United States" to catch seal and ordering the arrest and punishment of all persons "found to be or to have been engaged in any violation of the laws of the United States on those waters," and the seizure and forfeiture of their vessels, is based on the necessity of enforcing regulations for protection of the seals, and it applies to domestic and foreign vessels alike. A recent law of congress makes it the duty of the president "at a timely season in each year to issue a proclamation of this nature. This action is based on the assumption that Behring sea is a "closed sea," an "American lake," wholly within the jurisdiction of the United States, not a sea open to the traffic of the world.

The Indianapolis Journal gives an account of the facts on which the act of congress and the president's proclamation are based: The Aleutian islands are an extension of Alaska, and are owned by the United States. They stretch westward nearly 2000 miles from the Alaskan coast, extending far beyond the most eastern point of Russian Asia and far enough to intersect the boundary line between Russia and the United States. The United States claims that all the waters within the line or trend of these islands is a "closed sea" and solely under the jurisdiction of the power owning the islands. In the treaty ceding Alaska to the United States it was so regarded, and the right of the United States to exercise jurisdiction over the sea was distinctly recognized. But (says the Indianapolis Journal) there are two points of difficulty in the present assertion of the right. One is that we have allowed twenty years to pass without putting in our claim. Alaska was ceded to the United States in 1867, and we did not take any steps toward asserting our jurisdiction over Behring sea until about two years ago. Again, more than fifty years ago, when Russia owned Alaska and attempted to claim sovereignty over Behring sea, the United States and Great Britain both protested against the doctrine that a nation could claim territorial jurisdiction over a sea having an entrance a thousand miles wide. Thus, whatever claim we have has lain dormant twenty years, and we are partially estopped from asserting it by the fact that we protested against Russia's doing it when had the same right that we are now claiming. For these reasons the movement of the United States in the matter is likely to be resisted by other commercial powers, and it is probable that seizure of foreign vessels in those waters will lead to international complications.

An association of clergymen in Boston, in a resolution pronouncing in favor of the prohibition amendment now pending in Massachusetts, declared that "those who are not for the amendment must be counted as indirectly co-operating with the enemies of religion and of the state." Nevertheless, a list of the clergymen of Boston, published by the Transcript of that city, shows thirty-six against the amendment to thirty-seven for it, and one of the former, Rev. W. H. Lyon, publishes a letter in which he says: "I hasten to take my stand by the side of those who are not to be frightened by impudent browbeating out of having and speaking a mind of their own." It is not doubted that prohibition, which is to be voted on in Massachusetts, about three weeks hence, will be rejected by a very great majority.

The epidemic caused by the Aubrey-Fuller elopement, though not general was widespread, being like measles, broken out in spots. The latest case noted is that of a daughter of an ex-delegate to congress from Idaho who fled on foot from Georgetown to Murray in that territory, waded a mountain torrent, wore out her shoes, tore her frock, and, in a generally dilapitated and semi-wrecked condition found her lover and hurried him off to the minister. There is some romance about an escapade of this kind. It puts in total eclipse a common-place flight in a Pullman car, and discounts the adventures of Miss Pauline Fuller heavily.

The Kennebec Journal, published at Augusta, Me., in a recent issue contained an editorial article calling upon the new city officers just elected to enforce all the laws, and especially the "Maine law," and thus prevent a record of brutality and blood which have been too common in some of the years of the recent past." In its local columns the same issue contained an account of a banquet given to the "traveling men" at the Hotel North, and published the menu, which concluded as follows: "Annex—Lager Beer, Currant Wine, Sherry, Claret, Champagne, Punch, Whisky, Cognac, Cigars."

The public will be gratified to receive fresh news from Henry M. Stanley. He was alive and well no longer ago than last September.

PORTLAND AND VICINITY.

DRUNK RATHER.—A middle aged granger having the appearance of a genuine Rip Van Winkle, became gloriously drunk yesterday afternoon, and succeeded as all inebriates do in making of himself a most disgusting spectacle. He happened to stop at the corner of Third and Main streets and, as his load of bad whisky proved too much for him, he concluded it was a good place to remain. Towards evening some one telephoned to the police station, and Officer Mott and another officer were detailed to bring him into the fold where all helpless drunks are kept. They had some difficulty in getting him to accompany them and when they finally did get him there he refused to enter the cell. He had to be put in by main force. Then after uttering several blood curdling yells, he quieted down and fell into a silent sleep. He will probably not be thoroughly awake until he gets into the police court this afternoon.

RETIRED FROM THE FIRM.—Mr J W Whalley has retired from the firm of Whalley, Bronaugh & Northup and practically from the practice of his profession. He has acquired fame and money enough to satisfy his modest desires and will devote his time to amusing and enjoying himself. The act of the last legislature in making dogs property will enable Mr Whalley to invest with confidence in canines, and he will by next hunting season, be equipped with a pack of pointers, setters and retrievers, which will drive the other sportsmen of this burg wild with envy and with he sure to practice shooting, he will be in trim by next fall to depopulate Sauvie's Island of feathered game. Mr Whalley has trained a handsome Irish setter to seize himself by the caudal appendage and carry it up stairs in his mouth and he will now employ some of his leisure in trying to train the tail to carry the remainder of the dog up stairs.

HE THREATENED THE DRIVER.—Postmaster James Parker of Burns, Malheur county writes to Postal Inspector Trentland that the mail stage running from Burns to Fort Bidwell was waylaid in Catlow valley on the 1th of March by a man who made threats that he would not allow the stage to pass over a certain field of road over which the mail has been carried and that the same person has since made threats that he would stop the stage from running over this road if he had to kill the driver. The name of the bulldozer man is not given and there is an indefiniteness about the communication which makes it unsatisfactory. The affair is probably the result of some private quarrel between the stage driver and some rancher who does not realize what a serious matter it is to interfere with Uncle Sam's mail, even if it is nothing but an empty sack.

A SCARED HORSE'S ANTICS.—The driver of one of the cars on the Fifteenth street branch of the Multnomah Street Railway Company was somewhat startled yesterday by the unexpected and sudden addition of an extra horse to his team. While standing at the junction with G street, a horse with a set of harness flying around him galloped up G street, and turning down Fifteenth, jumped between the horses attached to the car, landing astride the pole, where he stood trembling and evidently expecting to be protected by the other horses. The driver however, had no idea of adopting the Russian style and the stranger was got out of the way as speedily as possible.

RAN AWAY FROM SCHOOL.—A 16-year old lad named Raoal Auserals, ran away from the Santa Clara university in California some time last week, and took a train bound for the North. Chief of Police W D Brown of San Jose, telegraphed Officer Woods in this city and told him to look out for the young man in Portland. As was expected the young man came to this city and the officer took him in custody. Friday night he was taken to Astoria and sent back by steamer. He told Officer Woods that he had no objection to returning only he had been abused and mistreated in school and he did not propose to put up with it. The young man comes from a good family, his mother being a wealthy widow lady.

VITUPERATION PERSONIFIED.—Mrs Hanlon the mother of George Hanlon who is serving a sentence in the penitentiary for robbery, was locked up in the city jail yesterday on a charge of drunkenness. She was so abusive and boisterous that she had to be confined in one of the small dark cells. While in the cell she occupied about three or four hours in declaring herself—a diversion which in police circles is well understood. It is needless to say that her language was not very choice. Her language was such that, for profanity and indecency the most dare devil ruffian and the vilest social outcast might well envy her.

A DESERVING CASE.—Mr Steel secretary of the C B of C has an application for work from an old gentleman, who is well worthy of receiving every assistance. He has a wife and four small children depending upon him for support. The City Board of Charities has given him odd jobs of work, but he is desirous of obtaining some kind of steady employment. The old gent is an expert gardener and could easily do any work in that line or in light farming. Any person knowing of such work will confer a favor upon the C B of C by reporting to the secretary at No 141 Morrison street.

THE THIRTY-SIXTH ANNIVERSARY.—Samaritan Lodge No 2, I O O F will have a grand reunion and social on the 10th inst, in celebration of the thirty sixth anniversary of the lodge. Mr J B Kellogg is the only one of the charter members now connected with the lodge. The members and their families intend to have an enjoyable social reunion with speeches music and all that sort of thing and if any one imagines for a moment that there will be nothing more substantial provided for the entertainment of those present, he does not know the members of old Samaritan.

SHAFTS FOR THREE HORSES.—The new shafts and whiffle tree, a three-horse arrangement, for hook and ladder truck No 1, ordered by the fire department, has arrived and will be attached ready for use next Monday. The shafts are so arranged that the middle horse can pass under from either side. Each pole works on a hinge joint with spring attachment to keep it in place when down thereby permitting the middle horse to reach its place without backing in from the end. The entire outfit is a late patent made in Buffalo, and costs $100. The horses will go three abreast.

OREGON BICYCLE CLUB.—A meeting of the stockholders of the Oregon Bicycle Club was held at the office of Dr B E. Miller last evening. After the usual routine business had been transacted the following stockholders were elected for the ensuing year: Dr C C Newcastle, P Martin Jr E J Partridge Dr B E Miller, George Breck Lawrence H Knapp and G Whittaker. A meeting of the directors was called for April 16 to elect officers. The club is in a very prosperous condition, having nearly $500 in the treasury. It is incorporated for $1000 subscribed stock, most of which is taken.

THE OREGON PRESBYTERY.—A meeting of the Oregon Presbytery of the United Presbyterian church was held in the United Presbyterian church corner Sixth and Montgomery streets last evening. Dr W R Stevenson led in prayer. Rev W G M Hays of Wallsburg, delivered the opening sermon and after a prayer by Rev S G Irvine an informal reception of delegates was held. Meetings will be held according to the programme published in yesterday's issue of The Oregonian to-day and to-morrow.

ANNUAL MEETING L R B.—The annual meeting of the Ladies Relief Society was held in the lecture room of the First Presbyterian church at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The meeting was largely attended and unusual interest was manifested in the proceedings. The officers of the society submitted their annual reports, that of the treasurer only being incomplete. The reports showed that the past year has been a most successful one. A great deal of work has been accomplished and the field of labor is ever widening.

NOTHING NATIVE NEEDED.—Messrs C H and C F Hudson Dear Sirs: Allow me to express my gratitude and pleasure at finding a magnificent Hallet & Davis grand piano awaiting our use in the Plattsburgh concert. For evenness of scale warmth and richness of tone color and for its remarkable and peculiar sympathetic singing quality this piano stands without a peer in the world. Yours truly Ovide Musin. These pianos can be found at The Chicago Music House, 51 First street. Klein & Day, proprietors who are the sole agents in the Northwest.

INTERESTING ENTERTAINMENT.—The annual entertainment of the Oregon Humane society which will take place in the tabernacle April 10, promises to be one of greater interest than any heretofore given. There will be more prizes given for essays than at the anniversary entertainment last year. The exercises will consist of an address by the president of the society, vocal and instrumental music presentation of prizes and other interesting features. The complete programme will be published later.

THE RAILROAD COMMISSION'S ATTORNEY.—Hon Joseph Simon yesterday confirmed the dispatch from Salem stating that it was reported that he and Hon Richard Williams of Portland, had been engaged to fight the battle of the railroad commission elected by the legislature. "I am confident that the cause of the legislative commission will be sustained," he said. "So far as I can see the commission appointed by Governor Pennoyer has no claim to the office."

ST HELENS MUNICIPAL ELECTION.—The special election held in St. Helens Monday, to elect the town officers provided for in the incorporation act passed by the last legislature, resulted as follows: President of the council Judge F A Moore, councilmen, James Muckle Jr S. A. Miles, R. Cox and A. H Blakesley recorder, T A Watts, marshal, F M Miles treasurer, H P Watkins. They qualify and inaugurate the town government on the 8th inst.

GOING TO EUROPE.—Mrs. Ann J White for nearly ten years a teacher at the Harrison street public school of this city is now visiting her mother and sister at her old home in Holbrook Mass. She will leave New York with Cook & Son's first European tourist party by the steamer Germanic sailing May 1. Mrs. White will visit all the principal capitals of Europe during her absence.

A FURLOUGH GRANTED.—General Gibbon has issued the following special order under date of March 30. By authority of the secretary of war the commanding officer, Vancouver barracks, will grant a furlough for five months to private Frank Thomas, company H Fourteenth infantry, to take effect after his re-enlistment, with permission to go beyond sea.

MRS. KINNEY'S LECTURE.—Mrs. Narcissa W Kinney of Astoria addressed the meeting of the W C T U yesterday, taking as her subject "Prohibition." She held that public sentiment in Pennsylvania is gradually growing in favor of constitutional prohibition. The latest converts are ... and Postmaster-General Wanamaker.

A SPIRITUALIST SOCIETY INCORPORATED.—Articles incorporating the First Spiritual and Literary Society of East Portland were filed yesterday by Marshall Wheeler G H Wills, Wilde Buckman W E Haight and M F Brown. The objects of the association are multifarious, ranging from dealing in real and personal property to the advancement of the human race, irrespective of race and social condition. The society has property worth $200.

AROUND THE WORLD.—Mr Henry Rothschild of San Francisco who is well known, and has many friends here, starts from San Francisco next Saturday, to make a trip around the world, which will occupy a year. Mr Rothschild is a very good descriptive writer and his friends anticipate seeing something from his pen in regard to his travels.

MULTNOMAH COUNTY'S SHARE.—County Treasurer Hacheney has sent State Treasurer Webb a check for $89,01 94 Multnomah county's share of the state taxes. Of this amount $82 341 59 goes into the current expense fund $4,459 ... in the National guard fund and the remainder $2225 4..., into the State university fund.

A PLEASANT ENTERTAINMENT.—The Stevenson Literary Society will give an entertainment Friday evening next, at the United Presbyterian church corner of Montgomery and Sixth streets. The society embraces many persons of more than ordinary talent and the entertainment will doubtless be a very satisfactory one.

TAX COLLECTIONS.—Though the time for the collection of taxes expired April 1, Sheriff Kelly is still receiving from all who come to pay. Up to last night he had collected about $320 000 leaving about $8 000 delinquent. The best day for collections was Monday when $74 000 were taken in.

DEATH OF HATTER WALKER.—Nathan Walker, who was engaged in the hat business in Portland for a number of years died at his farm on the Cornell road Monday. He was in his 76th year. He came to Oregon from California in 1850. He leaves three sons and two daughters.

MR W HESTON having leased the Partridge studio on the corner opposite the postoffice, where he has been operating lately, in order to thoroughly introduce his work to the public, will make cabinet photographs for two weeks, at three dollars per dozen.

THE THEATER ROYAL.—A good programme is carried out nightly at this theater. The big attraction this week is Post & Gross' female minstrels.

EXCAVATION COMMENCED.—Men were employed yesterday making the excavation for the foundation for the south wing of the court house.

STILL THEY GO.—Those very choice lots in Edendale just east of Sunnyside. Call at 103 Second street.

THE VITALITY OF IMPOSTURE

The Popular Science Monthly contains an article by Prof Joseph Jastrow on "Modern Spiritism" in which the professor reaches the conclusion that the case of those who attribute the manifestations to a supernatural cause has now been so much weakened that it can no longer enter as a serious possibility into the minds of such as guide their belief by reason " The conclusion of Prof Jastrow is one that any competent judge of evidence ought to be able to reach without the help of scientific knowledge and education It ought not to take scientific criticism to reduce modern spiritism to its first term of imposture de usion credulity and folly any more than it requires a scientific education to decide that Mohammedanism and Mormonism both rest on imposture and credulity for their foundation stones The tenacious life of these idiotic faiths might as reasonably be quoted to their behalf as the fact that modern spiritism has several millions of believers publishes 100 journals and occasionally catches an aged and decrepit man of brains in its trap for the credulous and superstitious but the number of intellectual men of acknowledged vigorous health of mind and body that believe in modern spiritism is so small as to be not worthy of serious consideration

The utter baselessness of spiritism during its forty years of life from the day of the Rochester rappings' down to the pranks of Hume and Slade have been exposed over and over again in this country and Europe In England the courts seized Slade and imprisoned him for getting money under false pretences The theosophist imposture of Madame Blavatsky was elaborate enough to capture Colonel Henry S Olcott, a New York journalist several years ago, but it was completely exposed in India where Blavatsky and her dupe (or worse) went for further enlightenment from the Hindoo fakirs and "medicine men."

The Philadelphia commission of investigation unanimously reached the conclusion, after having examined many of the most famous mediums that the whole of what these mediums called the work of spirits was, to use Professor Jastrow's words, gross, intentional fraud throughout,' and the investigation conducted by the English Society for Psychical Research in 1886 reached the same conclusion, that it is all sham and trickery on the part of mediums " and state that the true solution of this successful deception is difficult only because the scientific capacity for accurate observation and the judicial capacity for carefully sifting and weighing testimony is so rare in this world Professor Jastrow says that the judging powers are at a great disadvantage in observing such performances and that it is a kind of judgment in which they have no practice. The fact that scientific examination everywhere reveals deception, makes it extremely probable that when exposure has not taken place it is because there was no scientific examination '

The average spiritist is so completely imposed upon by his determination to see what he wishes to see and to believe what he longs to believe that his understanding and imagination are about as vague as that of that feeble old fogy Polonius when Hamlet makes him say that the cloud was like a camel, backed like a weasel and looked very like a whale That is about the quality of the modern spiritist's intellectual grasp He can see anything he wants to see he can conjure up a cockroach, or invoke the materialized shape of a dead camel opard The mind cure the faith cure, the spirit craze are all part and parcel of the same delusion or imposture Of course it goes just as gross impostures have always succeeded among the credulous the illbalanced the imbecile, the unarranged and morbidly imaginative people of this world The story of Mahomet's rise to success reads to a scientific mind like the story of the success of cheap mountebank imposing upon the ignorance and imagination of children and yet the impulse of that successful imposture convulsed the world It expelled Christianity from Alexandria from Constantinople, from Carthage it planted Mohammedanism impregnably in Africa and Asia Based on vulgar imposture as it was, nevertheless it inflamed the minds of its votaries so violently that the Christian soldier of the cross did not fight and fall and die more heroically than did the Saracens who followed Saladin against Richard Lion Heart who swept Spain like a tidal wave and were only stopped in their conquest of western Europe by the battle of Tours

Why do we recite these historical facts? Simply to show that a gross imposture may rest on nothing and yet wax fat and strong because of the persistent credulity superstition and stupidity of mankind Saladin was a keener and abler intellect than Richard was a more humane and enlightened man and yet he fought as ferociously and as heroically for his faith in imposture as Richard did for Christianity Of what avail then to quote the number of votaries of modern spiritism as proof of its validity? We might as well argue that because thirty years ago eight tenths of the American people voted for human slavery human slavery therefore was of divine origin and deserved unbroken perpetuity The poet says truth crushed to earth will rise again but the philosopher knows that error has long and lusty life before she writhes in pain and dies among her worshipers

SOME WAR ISSUES.

When Southern leaders planned the rebellion they counted Southern dash and valor as irresistible and discounted Northern patriotism They expected to crush the North and by enlisting the entire South in the war to make it a crusade wherein Southern homes and Southern institutions would be the rallying cry and Southern valor the dependence They failed to take into account the patience endurance and patriotism of the North and of course they failed as Southern peoples have always failed of overcoming Northern races In the end endurance and patient discipline will win and the Southern leaders saw their hopes wrecked because they undervalued the North

At this late day it is only worth while to discuss such topics as matters of history or where they become pertinent to present interests It is worth while to discuss the motives of the slaveholders' rebellion at this time to ascertain how much consideration is due that section in the settlement of questions arising from the war One of these is payment of the war debt while another is payment of pensions to the soldiers who are disabled or in need Corporal Tanner is now commissioner of pensions and when a running off ce he took strong grounds in favor of granting a pension to every Union soldier who shall be in need It has been a contest between parties to claim the soldier's vote on the score of liberality shown in pensioning the veterans Up to the November election the late administration dealt out pensions unsparingly, but as soon as the defeat of Cleveland was assured the pensioning of soldiers ceased The game was up but Tanner starts in with the announcement that he is disposed to extend the pension list to include every Union veteran who is in need whatever may be his cause

There is no mistaking the sentiment of the nation towards its veterans The history is made and the young men who rushed to battle in 61 are old men in '89 Their frosted beards show the touch of time Those who were in life's prime then are life's veterans now, as well as war's remainder The country knows that cemeteries mark the site of many a battlefield and recognize that while one fourth of our soldiers fell in battle and another fourth were maimed or wounded those who remain incurred all the danger and virtually laid their lives an offering on their country's altar It is not cheap sentimentality, it is deep-seated appreciation of what was done by our soldiers, and all they dared and risked that makes the loyal states so liberal towards all who may be in need

The question often is asked Did not the Confederate soldier feel as honest a loyalty and patriotism as the Union soldier? What if he did mistakenly side with rebellion? But how long is it since the world has made excuse for treason because the traitor was sincere? Where before was there an instance of such criminal war followed by such unexampled clemency? The contrast between North and South —Southern treachery and treason followed by devastating war and ending with restoration to all rights and privileges—is greater than history can elsewhere show The question is asked if it is not hard for the South to lose all it did in life and property without having to pay their share of the war debt and pensions That is a light penalty and only what all the nations uses The South can make homes for its veterans for thanks to Northern help it is now prosperous Their penalty is light compared with the crime, and everything is done that is possible to render it as easy as possible

No one even asks what the consequences would have been had the South been conqueror With all the war material in their hands and with infatuation to move their soldiers, they expected to make a short and brilliant campaign and force a peace at the point of the bayonet Does anyone suppose the South would have been less exacting than was Germany with France a few years later had she been able to impose a war indemnity With Washington in their hands, and their armies ravaging the North, and the Northern people terrorized, the billion of dollars Bismarck imposed on France would have been a bagatelle compared to what the triumphant Confederacy would have exacted of the North

WOMAN SUFFRAGE

There is now before the British parliament a bill for enfranchisement of widows and spinsters and Mr. Courtney, one of the leaders of the woman suffrage movement in England expects to carry it to a second reading this month The theory of the bill is that while the husband votes for the wife the spinster and widow go unrepresented The Westminster Review thinks there is no force in this discrimination against wives, because marriage no longer deprives an English woman of her possessions, she is no less a social and political unit than the spinster The Westminster writer shows that the adult single women exceed the adult single men by only a little over 65 000, out of a population of over 35,-000 000 Between the ages of 15 and 45 the single women are actually in the minority, the bachelors outnumbering the spinsters by nearly 79 000 The surplus of women is among the widows chiefly they exceeding the widowers by over 821 000 out of a total surplus of less than 1 000 000 '

The Westminster writer argues that if married women are discriminated against in the suffrage the great majority of the sex who are best qualified for it will be shut out from the privilege and that all ought to have the vote or none

It is a curious fact that while the woman suffrage movement has declined in the United States during the last twenty years it receives to-day very grave consideration in England as compared with twenty years ago The New York legislature last week again refused to grant the suffrage to women The New York Sun recites these facts and explains the situation by pointing out that while intelligent English women take a great deal of interest in politics and exercise a good deal of influence, the great majority of intelligent women in this country neither know nor care anything about politics, generally treating the agitation for woman suffrage with open, undisguised hostility or contempt If an election turns on a question of religious sentiment, as it did in the Boston school election last December women will vote, when otherwise they would be utterly indifferent

Strange as it may appear, one person has been found who did not want and would not accept a postoffice Stranger still the refusal was based on an individual feeling of inability to fill the position acceptably The only feature of the case that rescues the incident from the realm of the marvelous is that this person is not an eager politician who imagines that any and every thing that he can compass in an official way belongs to him by right, but a woman of good judgment and sound discretion who believes that the postal affairs of a city should be administered for the public benefit rather than for individual profit Mrs Stonewall Jackson will not be postmaster of Lexington but that city will be fortunate if it secures a postmaster who brings to the discharge of his duties the feeling of responsibility that caused the widow of the rebel general to decline the appointment

The monthly meterological report shows March to have been an unusually mild mannered month even in this favored region It was in fact the warmest March on record the temperature at no time falling below the freezing point It turned the season over to April with the work of the latter month well advanced in growing herbage sprouting seeds and blossoming trees The question What shall the harvest be in fruits is being asked somewhat anxiously but it is only the constitutional prognosticator of evil who speaks of failure, and even he is constrained to admit that such a disaster is most unlikely to happen in Oregon where all signs popularly supposed to indicate short crops fail

There is one citizen of Modesto California whom the gods have decreed shall not be postmaster A political neuter he received the appointment under both Cleveland and Harrison but the senate for some reason blocked his official hopes that had twice blossomed into certainty by refusing to confirm his nomination Such a case is pitiful as it takes away from the independent citizen his only means of retaliating sharply upon the party that refused his services, that of voting against its candidates There is however one resource for a man thus slighted He can refuse to vote at all or throw the great weight of his ballot and influence for prohibition

Notwithstanding the great multitude of offices under our benign form of government it looks like some candidates will be disappointed in securing employment and have to go to work Harrowing as this is to a legion of sensitive souls, there seems to be no way to help it, as the senate thinks it but just to permit efficient incumbents to serve out their official terms

Not long since we had an account of the formation of a salt trust in England and of efforts to induce American salt makers to join it Now we have a statement that great capitalists are forming a trust to control all the coal mines of the United Kingdom, and that the scheme will be undertaken with a capital of $500,000 000 The Louisville Courier-Journal says of it "This excels in score and audacity anything of the kind ever attempted in America and does not form a subject of pleasant reflection for those who wish this country to rank second in nothing Compared with this gigantic scheme all our trusts seem insignificant We have none with a capital of $500 000 000 or the half of it.' Democratic paper like the Courier-Journal have been accustomed to assert that trusts were a peculiar outgrowth of our protective tariff system. It is evident enough that they were in error

President Harrison is popular with everybody except anxious office seekers who are heart sick with hope deferred He is known among these as an "infernal listener"—an epithet descriptive of his unvarying patience and the repeated postponement of their wishes without even a promise to hang their shattered hopes upon

NOTE AND COMMENT.

A Canada journal discovers that Thomas A Edison is a Canadian and adds, "there are plenty of great men in Canada That may be so but they seem to require transplanting to develop their abilities Edison developed well on this side the line and has found in Illinois Smith? Send on plenty of such raw material and it will be put in the way of acquiring distinction In making selections owners, it is necessary to be careful for such Canadians as Edison do not often materialize Some men are nearly lightning but Thomas A Edison is the real stuff

Portland is not behind in the possession of intelligent canines Opposite the St Charles hotel a man in a dog cart lost one of his heavy stakes and went on A big St Bernard came along picked it up and carried it along until his master took it from him and patted him affectionately as a reward for faithfulness His master says nothing will be lost which may drop off the wagon when the dog is along, and no one can help himself to anything on it Such a dog is company to a man, a friend in need often and should be made much of If it is not it is not likely it would take so much interest in the family

According to appearances there will soon be canneries all through this valley for putting up fruit Albany has one and Brownsville thinks of putting up another It is necessary to utilize the fruit, and if there are canneries and driers or evaporators that will use fruit, it will reduce the quantity to be sold green Fruit growers and merchants through the valley towns can organize and co-operate in running canneries. A cannery to put up a large quantity of fruit can be equipped at reasonable cost and the business need not be conducted on a very large scale

An inmate of an insane asylum composed some lines about drink that warrant the belief he is not so crazy as he might be. The maniac always dwells on the cause of his trouble, however, but the poor fellow may have been inspired by an eternal hope This poor wretch wrote the following verse that was read by a temperance orator to a large audience

> "In this foam foul murder glides,
> And in this tide does ruin swim,
> Destruction at the bottom hides
> And Death is dancing round the rim.'

The Lane County Agricultural Society has resolved to disband because the business men of Eugene do not take sufficient interest in its support. This is a step backward at a time when all the country moves forward. Those who attended the Lane county fair last October found much to interest, and with good and enterprising management it would seem easily possible to keep up the fair and improve it every year Instead of giving up fairs, as has been done in some of the best valley counties, every county in Oregon should have an agricultural society to be auxiliary to the state society

Salem affords numerous proofs of progress and improvements. The woolen mill is a sure thing, various additions have been laid out, and some beautiful residences are being completed near the depot Albert is having the land beyond there laid off in lots and blocks, and will soon have a city of his own, where heretofore has been a waste of brush and gravel Messrs. Van Scoy and Tower, and a gentleman from Portland, have purchased the Myers tract, formerly owned by the school fund adjoining South Salem, and will lay it off in suburban lots Property is advancing and the daily newspapers have enlarged so that the morning Statesman and evening Journal are a credit to Salem journalism and to Salem

A syndicate of business men of Eugene and Albany have organized to purchase West Yaquina, opposite the docks at Yaquina city This looks as if they had confidence in the future and propose to accelerate the rate of progress There is no question that Yaquina will be an important point, These gentlemen have individual means and can utilize circumstances in their own favor Yaquina cannot be a great seaport for various reasons, but it can carry on trade with San Francisco and will be helped by the deep sea fishing There is not a surplus of land to build a city on, so the new venture should pan out This is one of the straws that indicate a favoring breeze and good times

Oregon farmers must be waking up, to judge from the remarks of a contemporary that there is more thorough trimming of old orchards this spring than usual The writer thinks it will add much to the quality of the fruit as well as beauty of appearance of the orchards ' There is no reason why an apple orchard in anything like fair condition should not be revived by thorough pruning and good cultivation, and made to produce good fruit. As it is, the trees are full of dead branches and the fruit is affected by fungus so that it cracks and spots and has a sort of dry rot. At best it won't keep well while that from vigorous trees, well cared for is all right. No trees in Oregon are too old to do well if properly cared for

A man who went east of the mountains and bought a thousand mutton sheep has returned with a story that the grass is all eaten out that 'the bunchgrass is gone forever ' and "stock raising extensively is played out in Eastern Oregon " This is the way it struck David McLeod, He came back over the Lebanon road , and it is doubtful if in any year known heretofore it has been possible to cross the Cascades in March As to the scarcity of grass, no doubt it appears so but a year's rest would tell a different story If that story was true there would be nothing left of Eastern Oregon This is a remarkably dry season and stock may suffer greatly if rains do not come but the country is not ruined as to grass for all that

Albany is ambitious. Not long since it wanted to have the deaf mute school located there and now is seriously bent on possessing the reform school It is of little importance to any place to have such an institution located in its midst, but it is of importance to the state that they should be within easy reach of state officers and so receive their constant care A reformatory located near the state capital would therefore be most convenient Without the least prejudice in the matter any person who judges such matters fairly must see that our state institutions should have been all located together or near to each other as a mere matter of convenience and Albany would have answered for all if it could have secured the capitol

'Harry Gilmore and Dandy Needham had a fight at Minneapolis and the particulars were sent on the wings of the lightning—which are speedier far than the wings of the wind—all through the United States These men are roughs whose lives and fortunes interest respectable people less than in case of a well bred animal of farm proclivities They "train for the ring and become 'professional pugilists The highest ambition of such men is to be able to ' fight to a finish, and come out victor against any man of their class. Their ignoble ambition is to be "champion, and they study the science of the ring with as much ardor as other men do some honorable trade Many a man of that class imagines he is of importance, So he is to his backers, but so far as humanity and civilization are concerned, he is that much of life and intellect wasted if he really has any intellect.

Peace reigns at Apia! Even the hurricane has gone to rest, and peaceful waves rock the cradle of the deep, and tired winds sing the lullaby of Germans and Americans alike Strange that when America and Germany had sent their navies to be prepared for trouble it came in the shape of a hurricane that swept these seas and dashed those war ships upon the reef Its shrill voice with a thousand tones of wrath and anguish went shrieking through rattlins and shrouds fate's fiercest utterance Krupp guns and Smooth Forks lie together on that coral reef To powers had no fury to compare with the wrath of such a storm Battles of all the navies since first Spanish galleons swept the Western main, could make no comparison with the might of wind and wave that swept those war ships from the southern seas With armored ships and murderous dynamite to do his bidding, man was impotent, and had never an arm to raise when omnipotence let loose the tropic hurricane

The Oregon legislature shines by contrast with the reputation made by that of California It is said that good old Governor Waterman was so worked up by the miserable performances of that body that he lost his head and was mentally off the handle He had Chris Buckley sitting in state in a room within hearing of the senate and when the closing hours were passing this bird of ill omen blind as his counterpart the owl saw that jolly crowd of boodlers pouring down champagne and roaring forth the latest drink songs. Buckley engineered the proceedings in the most shameful way, going to Sacramento and camping in the state capitol where he managed his cohorts of corruption so that he realized $100 000 for his share of the spoils Waterman is an honest man but powerless before the organized lobbyists and political scoundrels California may have some honest sentiment though Buckley was shrewd enough to get republicans to help his spoils ions. If there is any honest sentiment in that state it should assert itself and elect the next legislature independent of party pledged to put down Chris Buckley and all his villainous clew

In place of that constantly tired out feeling, Ayer's Sarsaparilla will give you strength.

THE MINES OF CANYON CREEK

Two New Concentrators in Course of Construction—A Lively Camp

Wallace Free Press

Two years ago it one wished to go to Burke or more properly speaking where Burke now stands, he straddled a cayuse and after riding seven miles over a rough trail he landed at his destination feeling as though he had traveled seventeen miles instead of seven Far up the mountain sides he could see the dump thrown out by some industrious prospector who as subsequent events have proved could read nature's mystic signs correctly Along the trail an occasional guide board told that by following a certain course suggested by an artistic finger one would arrive at the Gem mine, or the San Francisco mine or the Black Bear mine etc Following these directions an investigation proved that the term ' mine ' was premature but they were excellent prospects

But what a change has taken place in the two years We pass the advent of the railroad the output of the great Tiger and Poorman and the wonderful growth of Burke These are familiar to all who know anything of mining on the South Fork Let us see what has been done and is doing in the canyon between Wallace and Burke The dense forest has given way to the hardy settler and where two years ago there was scarcely a sign of a habitation we now find numerous cabins in which live men engaged in prospecting or employed by the mining companies

The Granite mill which has been idle for some time waiting for work to be completed in the mine is expected to resume operations soon

THE SAN FRANCISCO

This property as is well known is owned by the heirs of A M Esler A new tunnel is being run below the old workings which is estimated will tap the ledge by running 160 feet A concentrator is now being erected at this mine which will be in operation in May The building of this mill is under the supervision of R K Neil a young man of rare ability in this line of work The concentrator is 500 feet directly below the main working tunnel and the ore will be brought down by a gravity tramway The capacity of the concentrator will not be large at first but will be built with a view of increasing it without difficulty The water to run the mill is obtained from Canyon creek about 4000 feet above The contract for building the flume has been let to W S Haskins, and the work is now in progress The dam was finished yesterday About twenty five men are now employed in the mine and on the mill, and five more carpenters will be added next week

THE BLACK BEAR

About a dozen men are employed on this property The showing of ore is good and getting better daily Arrangements have been perfected to concentrate the ore from this mine in the San Francisco mill For this purpose a track will be laid along the mountain side from the Black Bear to the top of the San Francisco tramway, down which the ore will pass into the concentrator We confidently expect to be able within the next week or two to report a large body of remarkably rich ore in the Black Bear

THE GEM

Work on this mine is prosecuted under the supervision of A B Campbell one of the principal owners The lower tunnel is now in over 300 feet, and they have yet over 100 feet to run before they expect to strike the ledge A force of men are grading for the concentrator and side track In the various capacities about forty or fifty men are employed The Gem concentrator will also be built by R. K. Neil

THE TOWN OF GEM

That this will be a thriving little camp is beyond doubt. It is so situated as to derive a direct benefit from three big mines Already there is a postoffice, telephone office, a general merchandise store and two saloons The railroad company should build a depot at Gem It is growing in importance and even now the freight and passenger business is considerable

HE SHOT HIS FRIEND

A Singular and Very Serious Accident at Tacoma Sunday.

Ledger

E S Allis and J Thornton two gentlemen from Erie Pa , arrived in the city yesterday and put up at the Central hotel They no sooner got well located than they started up the street to view the town and chancing to pass a gun store stepped in to examine some revolvers Mr Allis was the party interested He examined two or three different makes of the weapon critically While he held one in his hand his friend Thornton drew from his hip pocket his own revolver—a hair trigger self acting weapon Allis pulled the trigger and snapped the hammer of the weapon he held and Thornton it seems, with his revolver pointed directly at his friend instinctively did the same

Allis had his arm half raised from his elbow The ball entered the wrist passing through the coat sleeve and cuff and a little hole in the coat and vest indicated that it had gone farther though Mr Ellis felt only a slight stinging sensation in the forearm

Mr Thornton became very much excited when he saw what he had done and taking Mr Allis by the arm hurried him to the street with the intention of hurrying him also to his hotel In his excitement however he could not remember the name of the hotel nor its location further than it was on the street where they then were The two men walked up and down the avenue for several blocks two or three times before they found that they were on the wrong side of the street When they finally reached the hotel and the wounded man his room Dr McCutcheon was summoned The doctor easily located the ball on the left side about opposite where it entered He thinks it ranged just outside the abdominal wall and has not entered the intestines He made no attempt to cut it out although he says that can readily be done but prefers to wait for a time He thinks the wound is quite dangerous

Mr Allis is a stout man of large frame strong constitution and evidently good spirits He is not at all alarmed and while he fully realizes the serious nature of the wound jests about the occasion of it Mr Thornton was very greatly distressed— all broken up, as the wounded man put it

BELLINGHAM BAY RAILROAD

Progress of the Enterprise—The $50 000 of Stock Nearly All Taken

Whatcom Reveille.

The Bellingham Bay railroad is rapidly becoming an assured fact and what this means for the property and general prosperity of Whatcom can scarcely be computed The syndicate which recently undertook to push the construction of the road is ably represented here by zealous agents whose object at the present moment is to complete the subscription to the stock before entering upon the actual road building Other communities which expect to share in the benefits arising from the opening of this new line have been prompt and liberal with their subscriptions and Whatcom property owners whose interests in these benefits is probably greater than that of any others should not fail either in promptness or liberality The syndicate were assured of fifty thousand dollars worth of stock subscriptions from this city, and it is to our credit that the greater part of this amount is already made up But Col Dickin on who is specially charged with the completion of this subscription list informed us Thursday evening that his accounts showed subscriptions of a trifle over forty five thousand dollars leaving a balance still to be taken of a little less than five thousand dollars So small an amount ought not to delay this great work for a single day and we hope that such of our property owners as have not yet handed in their subscriptions will do so promptly The subscription books are open at the company's office on C street Only 10 per cent of the amount of stock subscribed is immediately payable Future calls will only be made as fast as actual work progresses and no call of more than 10 per cent can be made in any month The burden upon any subscriber therefore cannot be enormous while the benefits both to the public and to individual property holders will be enormous

General Manager King says six bids will be open within ten days that work will then begin on the water front, that the railroad from this city to Westminster will be completed by September 15 and that the line will be built south as far as the Skagit river before snow flies

FIRST LOCOMOTIVE IN MULLAN

Lively Scene Upon Its Arrival Early One Sunday Morning

Wallace Free Press

At 4 30 P M Sunday March 24 the canyons hereabouts echoed back the sound of the first locomotive that ever blew its whistle in Mullan since time was Everything and everybody was startled at the unusual sound Webb Lea ' s old cow fled with tail erect tore down Pine avenue to the barn for shelter and every dutiful old hen crowded his flock under the nearest cover as if to ward off some impending danger Heads were thrust from shop windows men were hurrying hither and thither and even lawyer Lyle Bieler who has seen nearly every railroad in Caris county was seen to make a bee line in the direction from whence emanated this unusual noise in Mullan to see what? The locomotive Why all this commotion? Not that our town folk had not seen an engine before (for have not all of them been to Wallace) but to hear an engine toot and see it in Mullan was such a new thing that it was hard to realize Our citizens on many street corners with uncovered heads, joined in a rousing cheer In viewing the situation it was not long before nearly the entire population of Mullan was wending its way down Mill street to the foot on which Hotel engine No 3 Engineer M M the sun in charge Fred Brewer fireman with Tom Conway train of construction cars attached On Tuesday in Mullan this unusual whistle was heard again at noon Thursday at 4 15 P M , but it did not draw the crowd because it had out in the forenoon to the week the citizens had become quite accustomed to it and to-night it is a familiar and welcome sound When the first passenger train with Conductor Bibb in charge will roll into Mullan has not been announced

THE PUGET SOUND FOREST

It Is the Greatest Lumber Region in the World

Philadelphia Press.

A lumber pile made of boards each 60 feet long and six feet in width would be an unprecedented sight in the East, but a gentleman recently returned from a visit to the coast of the North Pacific ocean says that piles of lumber such as that are common at the mills on Puget sound ' Boards 100 feet long and six feet wide without check in them he says, are common cuts from the gigantic fir trees of the Puget sound forest These trees grow to the enormous hight of 250 feet and the forests are so vast that although the sawmills have been ripping 500 000 000 feet of lumber out of them every year for ten years, the space made by these tremendous inroads seem no more than garden patches Puget sound has 1800 miles of shore line and all along this line, and extending then e on both sides, miles and miles further than the eye can see is one vast and almost unbroken forest of these enormous trees. There is nothing like it anywhere on the Pacific coast An official estimate places the amount of standing timber in that area at 500,000 000 000 feet or a thousand years' supply, even at the enormous rate the timber is now being felled and sawed The timber belt covers 20,000 000 acres of Washington territory, an area equal to the states of Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut and New Hampshire The markets for the Puget sound lumber are entirely foreign being South America, Australia, Central America and the Pacific ocean islands "

PARDONED BEFORE CONVICTION.

How Mormon Elder Penrose Happened to be Pardoned by President Cleveland

Wood River (Idaho) Times.

The day following the inauguration of President Harrison a Washington dispatch announced that on the 2d of March, instant, President Cleveland had granted an unconditional pardon to Elder Penrose editor of the Deseret News of Salt Lake City, who had been on the "underground" (i e in hiding from the officers) for over two years The news somewhat surprised the uninitiated, especially in view of the fact that the Mormon editor had never been arraigned to answer to the crimes with which he was charged.

Well informed persons, however were not at all surprised In fact, they knew that Elder Penrose was to be "pardoned" before President Cleveland should leave the White house or at least they believed that they knew this But when the 1st of March passed without the expected exercise of clemency they began to hope that the redoubtable Mormon writer had been overlooked They knew that, if not pardoned it must be because he was overlooked as Amelia Folsom, the famous (or infamous) favorite of Brigham Young, deceased, was a full cousin of Frances Folsom, wife of President Cleveland, repeatedly boasted that Mrs Cleveland had promised her the pardon

Valuable Building Stone in Klamath County

Klamath Star

Adjacent to Linkville are numerous stone quarries where can be obtained an excellent quality of building stone It is of sand stone formation, easy of access and easily cut into any desired shape when first taken from the quarry but gradually becomes hardened when exposed to the air and it is thought it will stand fire as well as any stone The store of Baldwin & Forbes, the meat market and the wall enclosing the county jail are structures made of this rock We wonder that more buildings of this stone have not been erected in Linkville These quarries will no doubt be valuable property some day

Laying Up Timber Land

In the last number of the Centralia News there were seventy five United States land office notices of application to buy timber land by residents of Tacoma The Puyallup Commerce last week had five of these notices and the Orting Oracle had twenty This makes 16 000 acres of timber land which Tacoma men through the medium of three papers alone are proposing to purchase

Produce receipts past 24 hours, 4911 ctls wheat, 2296 bbls flour, 250 ctls oats, 80 ctls bran, 440 ctls millstuffs, 6 sks potatoes, 3345 lbs hides, 9 pkgs butter, 127 bxs eggs, 329 bxs green fruits, 21 pkgs dry fruits, 161 hd sheep.

WHEAT—The market is dull and weak. Any quotation would be merely nominal, for buyers will not give what holders ask, nor will holders take what buyers offer, and so the wheat business stands at present. The Chicago board of trade was closed on account of election day. Recent mail dates report the following in regard to wheat at Chicago and New York: The temper of the Chicago crowd is very decidedly bullish on July, and the majority of traders load up on the slightest encouragement. They are moved to this course principally by the fact that the winter wheat and spring wheat districts are in want of rain. Wheat can get along now without rain, but not forever. Hutchinson, though a bull on wheat does not take any great amount of stock in the dry weather bullishness, and enquires, "Whoever heard of drouth in March?" He is a bull, or says he is, because he believes, or pretends he does, that wheat is going to be scarce for consumption in this country before the next crops become available, and that it will be needed so badly near home, at good prices, that very little will find its way to the centers of accumulation. New York was bearish to-day in views, but the facts that came from the seaboard looked the other way.

FREIGHTS—The situation is weak, with no new engagements to report.

EGGS—The market is strong and firm, with eggs scarce. Quote 15c.

SUGARS—Another drop of ⅛c on all grades occurred to-day.

SALMON—The market is dull and quiet. Prices rule about the same—$1 60 for talls and $1 70 for flats. Says the Commercial News the Alaska salmon fleet is growing to enormous proportions, and to a non-professional fisherman it looks very much as if the business was going to be overdone this season. Probably those who have invested their money know best about it, but if the fleet increases much more there will be a boat for nearly every salmon in Alaskan waters by autumn.

The Gartmore, 1035 tons, has arrived at Astoria, where she will load lumber for the west coast.

The Astorian says that it is expected that the light ship off the mouth of the Columbia, for which $60,000 was recently appropriated, will be built and tending to business about July 1, 1890.

The Otterspool is the only disengaged vessel in port at present. The report that she had been chartered prior to arrival at 52s 6d, and lost her charter through failing to arrive in time was erroneous.

IS HE A DESERTER?

The Case of Kempinski, the Russian-American, Being Investigated.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The department of state has been informed by the United States secretary of legation at St. Petersburg that he has already requested the Russian government to investigate the case of Kempinski, said to be a naturalized American citizen, who was exiled to Siberia by the Russian authorities upon his return to Russia. It has been reported to the department that Kempinski was 18 or 19 years old when he left Russia for the United States. While the department will investigate the case thoroughly, there is said to be need for caution, for with this statement of the case it may appear that Kempinski was eligible for military service, and that his emigration to the United States was nothing less than a military desertion.

CONTINUED PEACE.

This Is What Bismarck Says Will Prevail in the German Empire.

BERLIN, April 2.—Bismarck in replying to the birthday congratulations of the Central Manufacturers' Association said that he looked forward to a continued maintenance of peace. This he believed would lend an increasing impetus to the present gratifying development of German industry. In his opinion the guarantee of peace was to be found not only in the monarchial institutions of the country, but also in a special degree, in the monarchial sentiments of the German people.

The Parnell Commission.

LONDON, April 2.—The Parnell commission resumed its sitting to-day. Sir Charles Russell opened the case for the Parnellites. His remarks thus far have been characterized by singular moderation. He declared the testimony of the 3000 witnesses for the Times to be irrelevant. He admitted that crime prevailed in Ireland in a greater or lesser degree, and said that the collapse in the matter of the alleged Parnell letters has abolished the pith and marrow of the inquiry. The court was asked by the Times to indict the whole nation, a proceeding which Burke declared to be impossible. Judicial rules are invalid when the whole people was moved. Thoughtful minds were convinced that the time had come to try home rule in Ireland.

A Busy Day.

WASHINGTON, April 2—The president has had a busy day. The members of the Lydecker court martial were presented in a body. Among the other callers were Senators Jones and Stewart of Nevada, and Mitchell. The cabinet met at 12:30 and held a session of two hours.

Racing in England.

LONDON, April 2.—This was the first day of the Northampton and Pytchley hunt and spring meeting. The race for Earl Spencer's purse of 500 sovereigns, handicap for 3-year-olds and upwards, distance five furlongs, was won by Lord Dudley's Soem.

Pugilistic Matters.

CHICAGO, April 2.—Now that the Weir-Murphy fight is definitely "off," Murphy expects one of the California Athletic Clubs to offer a purse for a fight between him and Tommy Warren, or some other feather-weight.

A Sword Stolen.

NEW HAVEN, April 2.—Thieves broke into the old State house last night, and carried away a sword of presentation which belonged to Admiral Foote. The sword was studded with precious stones and valued at $6000.

A Broker Suspends.

NEW YORK, April 2.—The suspension of C. D. Trowt, a member of the New York stock exchange, has just been announced. The liabilities are small.

Fighting in Hayti.

NEW YORK, April 2—The steamship Claribel has arrived from Hayti. Fighting is going on in the interior, but nothing is known as to the result.

Another Contestant.

LONDON, April 2.—William Phipson Ceale, home ruler, will contest for the seat in the commons, made vacant by the death of John Bright.

Stone in the Kidney.

I was first taken with sharp pains in the lower part of my bowels in the region of the bladder. Shortly blood appeared mixed with my urine, and a few weeks later I had an attack of gravel. I tried a number of doctors. One said it was gravel, another and another stone in kidneys. For three months I was under the care of an eminent doctor at Albany, but constantly growing worse, went home to die. At this time I was induced to try Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Rondout, N. Y., and am now robust and strong. A remedy which can do this for one so near death as I was should be known everywhere. I hope this statement will cause others afflicted as I was to use the Remedy.—C. W. Brown, Petersburg, N. Y.

Inflammation of the Bladder,

WATERCOMMITTEE MEETING

Considerable Routine Business Transacted—Nothing Very Important.

Warrants Drawn—Pipe To Be Laid—Reports—Estimates Submitted—About Irrigation—City Park Reservoir—Vacancy—Etc.

A regular meeting of the water committee was held at the parlors of Ladd & Tilton's bank yesterday, Mr Henry Failing presiding and Messrs. C H Lewis, A H Johnson W S Ladd Frank Dekum, F C Smith S G Reed, T B Richardson and J Loewenberg present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by Secretary P C Schuyler and approved.

WARRANTS ORDERED DRAWN

Warrants were ordered drawn to cover the disbursements of the operating department for the month of March amounting to $3292 69, and to pay the bill of the Oregon Iron and Steel Company for pipes and special castings, amounting to $15,72. 58

PIPE TO BE PUT IN

The petition requesting that a four inch pipe be laid from the corner of King street and Park avenue to the intersection of West Salmon and Ford streets, was taken from the table and after some discussion it was ordered that the superintendent put in the pipe as soon as it can be obtained.

The matter of a new main in Front street to cost $1,000 was left on the table

MONTHLY REPORT SUBMITTED

The operating committee submitted their monthly report, showing the earnings and disbursements for the month of March to be as follow

Total earnings	$10 710 80
Total disbursements	4 31 43
Balance cash on hand March 31	$20 026 .2

The committee recommended that $20,000 be turned over to the treasurer

On motion the report was received and filed, and the amount recommended ordered turned over to the treasurer

Q STREET RESIDENTS PETITION

A petition from residents on Q street asking that a water pipe be laid on that street from Twenty First to Twenty second was after some discussion, laid on the table.

[illegible] RESERVOIR.

Superintendent Smith submitted a report in regard to using the old reservoir for storage purposes. He states that the place would be available for storing articles not liable to be injured by exposure to the weather if a door was cut through the wall on Fourth street but not for tools etc. A building could be erected on the top of the walls. The matter was referred back to the superintendent with orders to report the cost of the proposed changes

MR [illegible] COMMUNICATION

A communication was read from Christian Fibson in regard to the stand pipe and main, across his property at Palatine Hill and asking that his demand that a strip twenty five feet wide of the city's property adjoining be deeded to him be complied with or the pipe be removed at once and concluding with the statement that no other proposition would be entertained by him

City Attorney Adams to whom the matter had been referred at the last meeting reported that Mr Fibson's statement that the pipe was on his land was correct, and that there seemed to have been no authority for placing it there, but he thought a right to maintain the stand pipe could be established in the courts.

A long discussion followed and an examination of the maps of the property. The committee had no desire to carry the matter into the courts. Finally a resolution recommending that the council deed a strip of land 25x50 feet to Mr Fibson on condition of his giving an easement allowing the city the privilege of maintaining the stand pipe, and the right of way across his land to make repairs to the same was adopted and City Attorney Adams was instructed to attend to carrying out this scheme

IRRIGATION AND SIDEWALK SPRINKLERS.

The following communication from Superintendent Smith was read

To the Water Committee During the past year no charges were made for the use of hose for irrigation or sidewalk sprinkling except for June, July August and September

Will water for these purposes be free during the remaining eight months to all, or only to those who may agree to pay for the use of hose in the months of June, July, August and September?

If not free to all, application should be made in due form and notice published in the papers in order that the matter may be understood

Some discussion followed and it was the general opinion that persons who did not use the hose for sprinkling and irrigation during the four months when charge was made should not be allowed to use water for these purposes during the rest of the year free.

On motion the superintendent was authorized to give notice that all persons making application for using hose [illegible] at the water works office shall be required to pay for such [illegible] may use their hose for irrigating or sprinkling sidewalks

THE CITY PARK RESERVOIR

Superintendent Smith presented estimates of the cost of constructing a reservoir in the city park as follows

To hold 20 000 000 gallons	$ 86 00
To hold 25 000 000 gallons	15 [illegible]
To hold 30 000 000 gallons	14 00

He suggested that if the council were to build for a 20,000 000 gallon reservoir with privilege of increasing its capacity if desired, a close estimate of the cost of the larger ones could be made after the work of excavation had been commenced.

Some discussion followed as to which size of reservoir would be best to contract

There was no difference of opinion in regard to the desirability of the largest mentioned, if the funds available would build it. There is $100 000 bonds and it was considered quite certain that at the end of the third quarter enough more could be saved up to build the 30,000,000 gallon reservoir

The matter was referred back to the superintendent with orders to prepare a plat of the ground required for the reservoir

WOOD CONTRACT AWARDED

President Failing reported that the contract for furnishing wood for the pumping station at Palatine Hill for one year from the 1st of August next had been let to David Alexander for $2 95 per cord. The estimated amount required will be 6000. Some bids were as high as $3 [illegible] per cord.

DECIDED NOT TO PURCHASE.

The committee decided not to purchase a pipe line offered by A N King, as he asked $9000 and a similar pipe could be laid for about $1000

THAT VACANCY

The matter of electing a member to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John Gates was not taken from the table. Adjourned

A SERIOUS RUNAWAY

Mrs Annie Britt [illegible] Is Thrown From Her Buggy and Picked Up Unconscious

Runaways are getting to be unpleasantly frequent. Hardly a day passes that an accident of this kind although the majority of them fortunately are attended with no serious results. Yesterday was no exception. Mrs Annie Britt, the wife of Adolph Britt of Vancouver, while returning from a ride in the country was thrown from her buggy and seriously injured

Mrs Britt engaged a horse and buggy at Charles Clayton's livery stable on Front and Salmon streets yesterday morning and drove out in the country some seven or eight miles to visit her mother. She started to return after dinner and as she got into the city was coming down Third street the horse became unmanageable. It is thought that either a tug was unhitched, or else one of the lines broke. As the horse approached Third street an old scissors grinder rushed out into the middle of the street and shaking his large white apron at the frightened steed endeavored to stop it. This caused the horse to wheel to the left. It narrowly missed running on to the sidewalk and when it reached Second street the buggy collided with a woodpile and was upset.

Mrs Britt was thrown high into the air and fell in the street, alighting on her right shoulder. [illegible] M Stewart who were [illegible] the street at the time ran to the woman's assistance. She was unconscious. She was carried to Mrs [illegible] where a number of women kindly rendered every assistance until the arrival of Dr Giesy

The doctor made a superficial examination but could find no bones broken. There is a [illegible] over her right eye and a cut under [illegible]. Although restoratives were administered Mrs Britt remained unconscious the entire afternoon.

In the evening her husband was telegraphed and Officer Woods removed her to the Good Samaritan hospital. Late last night Dr Giesy said that she was some better. She recovered partial consciousness at intervals and the indications are that she will come out all right. "There is a probability however," added the doctor "that the severe jolt of falling such a distance produced some concussion of the lungs. Should such be the case her ultimate recovery is involved in some doubt

The buggy was badly smashed and the horse continued its mad career to the stable, escaping with but few cuts and bruises

HE IS VERY FAVORABLY IMPRESSED

What Complimentary Things a Nebraska Man Has To Say About Oregon

Mr William Breeden of Lincoln, Nebraska gave THE OREGONIAN a call yesterday. Mr Breeden has spent the winter on the Pacific coast visiting California Oregon and Washington. He says that of all sections he has visited he is most favorably impressed with the Willamette valley than any other. So prepossessed is he with the outlook for Western Oregon, that he will shortly return to his home in Lincoln.

"But I shall not remain there long," said Mr Breeden "I shall settle up all my business as soon as I can and then come out to Oregon where I propose to become a permanent resident. I am very favorably impressed with your country so much so that I have decided to cast my future lot with you. I shall also use all my personal influence to induce friends back there to come out and try their fortunes."

"Oregon," continued Mr Breeden, is not properly advertised. The real truth is that the people in our country have very little idea of what a state Oregon is. They do not know what great advantages are offered, or hundreds would come. California and Washington territory have been much more widely advertised than has Oregon. I have myself sent back copies of THE OREGONIAN and many circulars to friends."

Mr Breeden will leave for Nebraska in a few weeks. His good impressions of, complimentary words about, Oregon may be the means of causing a number to turn their faces westward in search of permanent locations.

OUR CABLE ROAD ASSURED

The Engine House Under Way and Track Laying Will Begin May 1

Cars will be running on the Portland Cable Railway Company's line before many months. Work on the engine house and wheel at the northwest corner of Fifteenth and Mill streets, has begun. Contractor J E Bennett has quite a force at work and intends to push work. Engineer Holmes will leave San Francisco for Portland Saturday and when he arrives here he will complete the arrangements

"When will you begin track laying?" asked a reporter of President Smith yesterday

"On May 1. We will commence on Portland Heights using the old trestle work and will build down Fifteenth street to Jefferson thence to Fifth and down Fifth to the new Union depot

At the meeting of the directors of the company yesterday the old officers were re-elected.

THIS YEAR'S STATE FAIR.

President Apperson Says the Indications Are That It Will Be a Good One

An OREGONIAN reporter met Hon J T Apperson, of Oregon City, president of the State Board of Agriculture, at the St Charles yesterday, and questioned him regarding this year's state fair

"There is every indication that we will hold a good fair, one of the best we have ever had" was his reply. "We contemplate putting up more stable and fences on the ground and making other improvements to accommodate those in exhibits. The facilities for holding fairs on large scale are on the increase, growing and increasing in wealth and there is no good reason why each fair should not be better than the preceding one.

What is the financial condition of the board?"

Excellent. We have had prosperous fairs for four consecutive years, and our indebtedness is gradually being reduced. When the board assumed charge of affairs four years ago the indebtedness amounted to $30 000 now it is between $15,000 and $16 000 a reduction of about one half

How will the creation of state boards of agriculture in Southern and Eastern Oregon and the holding of fairs in those sections of the state affect you?

I think they will be very beneficial to us. They will add to the interest in the state fair rather than detract from it.'

A FRIEND TO THE PILOTS

A Fog Bell To Be Stationed on Warrior Point, Near St Helens

Plans and specifications for a fog bell at Warrior rock on the Columbia near St Helens have been prepared at the office of Major T H Handbury United States engineer and bids for the work have been asked for and will be received on the 12th inst. The foundation for the bell tower will be of rock, sixteen feet square and thirteen feet high which will bring it about two feet above extreme high water. The foundation will be built on Warrior rock a low point extending some distance into the river. On this foundation will be erected a two story wooden building, for the bell and the machinery for ringing it.

When a fog is on the river, the man in charge will set the machinery running and the bell will be struck so many times a minute as long as desired. The bell to be used here was formerly used at West point on Puget sound. The machinery for striking the bell will be sent out from the East. It is Stevens' latest improvement and the whole concern will be first-class and will prove a friend and guide to the pilots on dark foggy nights.

THE WOMEN WORKERS

Regular Meeting of the W C T U Yesterday—Reports of Committees—General Business

A regular meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held yesterday afternoon at 2 ½ o'clock at their hall No 1..½, First street.

The devotional exercises were led by Mrs Cooper

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The following report of the union's finances was submitted

Balance in treasury from previous month	$ 42 47
Receipts for month	[illegible]
Disbursements	91 34
Balance in treasury	$ 51 60

Mrs Rankin was requested by President Miller to get up a W C T U collection card and start its circulation to raise a fund for the coming state W C T U convention

Mrs Montgomery, evangelistic superintendent, made an interesting report. She has visited the jails and county poor farm each week and distributed 100 pages of literature.

There have been sixteen conversions and general interest on the part of the inmates. There are fewer than usual in jail now and three of those who have been converted will be discharged next week

Mrs Montgomery also holds cottage prayer meetings every Friday evening, from [illegible] o'clock.

Mrs Druck next reported the flower mission work and work among foreigners. She had distributed seventy-one bouquets to hospitals. She had distributed 2..1 pages of literature to churches and individuals.

The union approved her work and authorized her to procure scriptural mottoes for Lurbon [illegible]

The Loyal Legion was then reported by Mrs Dykert, and remarks were made by Mrs. Holden a visitor from Vancouver

Mrs Miller asked every one to take an interest and show it by their presence in the temperance school held every Wednesday evening and the gospel temperance meeting held every Saturday evening at the W C T U hall. The subject next Saturday is God's Appointed Time. Everyone was requested to look up some scriptural passage appropriate for the occasion

Miss Weeden presented the name of Miss Maria Aerne for membership and Mrs. C W Beers as an honorary member. Both were cordially accepted

Mrs Ogden asked the president that some appropriate action be taken on account of the death of Mrs Mendenhall. Miss Weeden, Mrs Ogden and Mrs Rankin were appointed a committee to draft fitting resolutions for the same on behalf of the Union. Adjourned

THE SECOND PERFORMANCE

The second performance by Sol Smith Russell of his unique role of Noah Vale in "A Poor Relation" was enjoyed by another enthusiastic audience at the New Park last evening. Applause mingled with hearty laughter greeted the quaint humor of the impoverished though philosophical inventor. Unlike so many so called comedies the play will bear a second or third hearing and one follows the really brilliant lines of the play with greater interest and enters into the misfortunes of the hero with deeper sympathy the oftener the play is seen. Of course this is due to the artistic manner in which Mr Russell impersonates the role although the general excellence of the cast and the precision with which each one enacts his and her part contribute no little to the pleasing result

The performance however though thoroughly enjoyable might be made more so by commencing promptly at 8 o'clock and shortening the waits between acts. It is a bad habit our theater goers have gotten into of coming in at a ridiculously late hour, and yet how are they to blame for this if it is hard to tell. If it was understood [illegible] that the curtain would rise promptly at 8 o'clock there would be no excuse for late comers.

BUSINESS OF THE COURTS.

The Suit Against the Steamer "City of Salem"—Taking Depositions

Deserted For Many Years—Conviction of Turner—Probate Matters—Among the Drunks—Poor Defense—Bound Over—Etc

The suit of A F Reed against the steamer City of Salem and her captain J D Tackaberry came up for a final hearing in the United States district court yesterday. It is charged that on the 4th of July last the City of Salem carried 900 passengers from this city to the White House grounds to attend the regimental drill

The libel further alleges that the steamer was licensed to carry only sixty passengers. This allegation was disposed of by the production of a special permit allowing her to carry 400 on the occasion in question. Captain Tackaberry says it is not true that he had 900 passengers on his boat, as there is not room for so many. The hearing of testimony in the case was completed, and the case will be submitted on briefs next week.

BEFORE JUSTICE TUTTLE

Mrs Julia Gouty, of Albina was tried in Justice Tuttle's court yesterday on a charge of kidnapping. The facts of the case are about as follows. In July last Mrs Margaret Earhart, the divorced wife of Warren Beach, permitted her daughter Cora to enter the service of Mrs Gouty [illegible] the 28th of last month Cora has failed to visit her mother. It is alleged that Mrs Earhart could get no satisfaction from Mrs Gouty [illegible] arrest [illegible] on a charge of kidnapping. Justice Tuttle took the matter under advisement.

The court was constrained to place more reliance on the testimony of the witnesses than on the defendants own stories especially as Driscoll bears a very unenviable reputation in police circles and each was held to answer to the grand jury under bonds in the sum of $400

THE DEFENSE TOO THIN

A man named Dan White appeared in the police court yesterday afternoon to answer a charge of larceny of two coats valued at $10 from the residence of William Druck No 208 [illegible] First street. White was arrested by Officer Branch late Monday night with one of the coats in his possession. He was trying to dispose of it in a second hand store.

Testifying in his own behalf in the police court yesterday afternoon, he told the old old story of having been given the coats by another party whom he did not know to sell on commission. This story has long ago ceased to be a defense and the court held the defendant to appear before the grand jury under bonds in the sum of $500.

HE SEEKS REMUNERATION

C G Rossbegan suit in Justice Phelan's court yesterday afternoon against John Finnerty and Stephen Gregory for $30 with costs and disbursements. He claims that recently he entered into a contract with the defendants for the above sum to furnish them with information concerning government lands in Wahkiakum county Washington territory and to explore 160 acres of the same and to locate them upon it. Plaintiff further alleges that he found the land spent considerable money in doing so and then apprised the defendants of what he had done, but they refused to reimburse him the price agreed upon

MILL EMPLOYES GO OUT ON STRIKE

The Clatsop Mill Shut Down, Throwing 160 Men Out of Work

The Clatsop Mill Company's entire plant including the box factory, was shut down Monday morning on account of a strike among some of the men, and as a result about 160 men are out of employment

An Astoria Pioneer reporter visited the mill Monday afternoon and met [illegible] president of the company. He stated that the men demanded a reduction [illegible] of hours [illegible] in the works [illegible] to grant it [illegible] council tie to wait on the proprietors but Mr [illegible] Kinney told them that they could not think of granting their terms.

The [illegible] harbor are running on three four his time and it would be a very easy matter to obtain men from either of the places, who would be glad to put in full time. They thought the men were mostly in favor of working at the rate and time they had been getting

One of the strikers was interviewed, and stated that the main cause of the trouble was a demand made by the foreman, that they work until 6 p. m. This matter was brought up last week and they mutually agreed to strike Monday. The most of the strikers are firm and the mill owners likewise, so there is no telling where it will end

The British bark Gartmore is lying at the dock awaiting a cargo and her [illegible] will stay right there until she gets it.

THIRD REGIMENT NOTES

Company E Elects a Captain—A New Company Is Organized at Baker City

The members of Company [illegible] Third regiment, O N G, at a meeting to elect a captain to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Captain C [illegible] Cooper elected Private J A. Houghton as their standard bearer. Captain Houghton is spoken of very highly, both as a gentleman and as an able military disciplinarian. He has seen active service [illegible] of the queen's militia in Canada where he held a commission and is in every way fitted for the position to which he has been elected by the unanimous vote of his company.

Another military company has been organized in this regiment at Baker City. The company was organized by E H Mix, county clerk of Baker county, and mustered into the service of the state by Colonel A. L. Naylor, of the general staff

At a meeting held by the company, the following election of officers and appointment took place: E H Mix captain, [illegible] O Brien first lieutenant [illegible] second lieutenant, H C Bowers first sergeant [illegible] [illegible] the Baker company [illegible]

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
ABSOLUTELY PURE.

For quick raising the Royal Baking Powder is superior to all other leavening agents. It is absolutely pure and wholesome and of the highest leavening power. It is always uniform in strength and quality and never fails to make light, sweet, most palatable and nutritive food. Bread, biscuits, muffins cake, etc, raised with Royal Baking Powder may be eaten hot without distressing results to the most delicate digestive organs. It will keep in any climate without deterioration

Prof H A Mott, U S. Government Chemist, after examining officially the principal baking powders of the country, reported

"The Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure for I have so found it in many tests made both for that company and the United States Government.

"Because of the facilities that company have for obtaining perfectly pure cream of tartar, and for other reasons dependent upon the proper proportions of the same, and the method of its preparation, the Royal Baking Powder is undoubtedly the purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public.
